BATTLE FOR ISLE OF CRETE BELIEVED APPROACHING CLIMAX

ALLIED FORCES STILL HOLDING AFTER FOUR DAYS OF HOSTILITIES

German high command breaks five-day silence on Crete—announces air-borne invaders have won control of western end of island. Says British naval units driven from northern waters of Crete and air control of whole area in German hands. British report long-range RAF bombers and fighters challenging Luftwaffe; while British and Greek ground troops have "decisively dealt with" German reinforcements landed at mid-island points.

Nazis admit death in action of one of their highest ranking air officers, Colonel General Ulrich Grauert.

Fifth day of battle for Crete finds British-Greek defenders holding; fierce battle rages on Malemi airport, still occupied by German troops aided by air-borne artillery. Allies recapture Candia and Retimo; British fleet reports Axis convoy en route to Crete sunk and 5,000 Germans drowned; Italians claim sinking of four British cruisers in four days in eastern Mediterranean.

Germans say their U-boats attacked British convoy near Greenland. RAF bombs industrial Cologne, in Rhine valley, and targets near Boulogne, while Luftwaffe centers attacks on English airports.

United States and Canada plan establishment of closely collaborating boards to speed air for Britain and hemisphere defense, Washington sources say.

NAZIS ARE BEING TURNED BACK BY BRITISH FLEET

By the Associated Press
London, May 24.—(P)—The British fleet today is expected to expect naval losses were taken generally to mean there will be no retreat.

An authorized declaration, that the British do not intend to use Crete's southern ports for embarkation and others cautioning the people to expect naval losses were taken generally to mean there will be no retreat.

Prime Minister Churchill declared before the invasion that the island will be defended to the death and without thought of withdrawal.

However, British reports available up to late today indicated the British were holding an edge in the fighting.

A fierce battle was being fought around Malemi airfield, where British and Greek forces are seeking to dislodge Nazi sky troops with artillery, tanks and machine-guns.

(The German High Command, silent until now on the whole battle, issued a special communique today declaring that German forces had been on Crete since May 20 and have taken the western end of the island, where Malemi is located, under control. It mentioned paratroopers and other troops, without specifying whether these were forces landed by glider and transport plane or ferried by sea from Greece.)

Authoritative sources declared they had received no information indicating that the Nazis had succeeded in landing sea-borne troops on the island "on any scale," but said it was probable that some odd Caïques (Greek sailing vessels) had reached the coast.

Describing the situation at Malemi as "not so good," one source said German planes continued to land troops there yesterday and also had brought in "some artillery and some mortars." He said the artillery probably was 75 millimeter or smaller.

The British were said to be holding a position east of Gornan-held Malemi and sources here said the situation at Candia and Retimo, from which the Nazis were (Turn To Page Nine)

High Command In Berlin Breaks Its Silence on Invasion

Berlin, May 24.—(P)—The German High Command broke its silence on the invasion of Crete today, announcing that German paratroopers have been on the island since May 20 and have the western end under control.

The paratroopers, assisted by other troops, fiercely attacked and took possession of many strategically important points, the announcement said.

The German air force is taking a major part in the operations, it said, and has sunk many British naval vessels north of Crete.

The High Command called the assault daring and specifically denied the charge of British Prime Minister Churchill that German paratroopers had landed wearing the uniforms of New Zealand troops.

It threatened reprisals if the accusation that German soldiers are wearing the uniforms of their foe is made the basis for mistreatment of prisoners.

These reprisals will be inflicted on English prisoners "in proportion of ten to one," it added.

The High Command concluded that operations on the Greek island are proceeding according to schedule.

This was its first mention of the five-day-old battle. The nearest a regular High Command had come to a report on the island battle was its claim today that five British speed boats were destroyed.

London Admits Loss of Battleship Hood

London, May 24.—(P)—The H. M. S. Hood blew up after being hit in the magazine in a naval battle with German forces off the coast of Greenland, the British announced tonight. The admiral said there probably would be few survivors from the 42,000-ton battle cruiser, the mightiest warship in the British fleet.

Berlin, May 24.—A British battleship cruiser, probably the giant H. M. S. Hood, has been destroyed by the new German battleship Bismark in a naval battle off Behemoths off Iceland, Germany announced officially tonight.

If Nazi Troops Attempt to Take British Isles, "It May Easily Be Some Weeks Before Enemies Are Totally Destroyed" Prime Minister Churchill Warns Britons in Message Accompanying Instructive Leaflet

14,000,000 COPIES TO BE DISTRIBUTED

London, May 24.—(P)—If Nazi troops attempt to take the British Isles, "it may easily be some weeks before the invaders have been totally destroyed," Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Britons today in a message accompanying an official "beating the invaders" leaflet.

The postoffice will distribute 14,000,000 copies of the leaflet next Tuesday to instruct the public what to do in case an invasion is attempted.

Churchill's message, painting a graphic picture of what may be expected, said:

"If invasion comes, everyone—young, old, men and women—will be eager to play their part worthily. By far the greater part of the country will not be immediately involved.

"Even along our coasts the greater part will remain unaffected. But where the enemy lands, or tries to land, there will be most violent fighting.

"Not only will there be battles when the enemy tries to come ashore, but afterwards there will fall upon his lodgements very heavy British counter-attacks and all the time his lodgements will be under heaviest attacks by British bombers.

"The fewer civilians or non-combatants in these areas the better—apart from essential workers who must remain. So if you are advised by authority to leave the place where you live, it is your duty to go elsewhere when you are told to leave.

"When the attack begins it will be too late to go; and unless you receive definite instructions to move, your duty then will be to stay where you are.

"You will have to get into the safest place you can find and stay there until the battle is over. For all of you then, the order and the (Turn To Page Nine)

CONVOY ATTACK NEAR GREENLAND DESCRIBED

Berlin, May 24.—(P)—German submarines were reported today to have attacked a British convoy in waters near Greenland.

Informal sources said the Greenland attack was the one reported in the high command's communique yesterday, which said nine merchant ships totaling 70,000 tons and including three large tankers, were sunk as they headed for England.

At that time it was not disclosed whether the action took place.

DNE, the official German news agency, said that during the U-boat attack one of the ships, a 7,000-ton munitions steamer, tried to dodge from the danger zone, but was struck by a torpedo and sank after a succession of tremendous explosions.

STATE RESTS IN STEADMAN TRIAL

Boston, May 24.—(P)—The prosecution abruptly rested its case today against blonde Mrs. Ruth Steadman, 26, after presenting evidence through which it hopes to convict her of first degree murder of her married lover, Robert Emery, also 26.

As a motive, the state sought to establish that Mrs. Steadman strangled Emery with a piece of clothing after he was drugged by sleeping tablets because she didn't want any other woman to have him.

The trial, in session for six days, was adjourned until Monday shortly after Medical Examiner Timothy Leary testified that Emery had been dead from 12 to 40 hours before his body was found in Mrs. Steadman's apartment.

The testimony was given as the state made efforts to determine definitely the time of death. Emery's body was found on Tuesday, Jan. 21,

WAR MATERIALS GOING TO AXIS GILLETTE SAYS

Iowa Senator Determined To Press for Establishment of Joint Congressional Committee to Investigate Situation

ABUSES IN PETROLEUM

Washington, May 24.—(P)—Declaring he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to the Axis powers "in scores and scores" of instances, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today he would press for establishment of a joint congressional committee to investigate.

"It is a strange thing," Gillette said, "that we are spending such vast sums to aid one side in the war and that we still allow vital war materials to go to the Axis countries. The people are entitled to know the facts about the situation."

The Iowa senator, continuing an interview, asserted that "the most flagrant reported abuses have been in the petroleum industry" and added:

"Motor fuel supplied by United States companies has been leaving Latin American ports for Germany and Italy.

"The Dutch East Indies recently have increased their allocation of petroleum to Japan and this is being refined and transported by British and American companies. West coast shipments of petroleum to Japan have increased tremendously since the first of the year, and the Japanese now are running virtually a ferry service to get it across."

In some instances, Gillette declared, American companies have worked through foreign subsidiaries to send materials to the Axis countries or have acted as American agents for German companies.

"We now are paying royalties to Germany on every inch of the special glass used in the manufacture of our warplanes," he added. "We also are paying royalties to Germany on a substance used in making airplane wings."

Gillette already has introduced a resolution to create a joint investigating committee composed of five senators and five representatives.

ITALY KING HAS CLOSE CALL ON ALBANIAN VISIT

Rome, May 24.—(P)—A Greek, declared affected by poetic madness, emptied a pistol at the motor car in which King Vittorio Emanuele was riding with the Albanian premier during the monarch's visit to Albania May 17, official Italian dispatches from Tirana disclosed today. All the shots went wild.

The assailant, whose name was given as Vassal Laci Mihailoff, was arrested, the dispatches said, "and saved from lynching by the people so as not to complicate investigations begun to run down his possible accomplices."

In the motor car with the king-emperor was Sherket Verlaci, who has been premier of Albania since the Italians first invaded that country early in 1939.

The official announcement described the affair as an attempt on the life of Verlaci.

News of this "criminal act," said the Tirana dispatches, was withheld until today, pending questioning of the prisoner.

King Vittorio Emanuele returned to Rome by air from Tirana on May 17 after a week's tour of the Albanian battlefronts where the Italians first fought the Greeks, then marched against the Yugoslavs.

Rumors that four or five shots were fired at the king in an attempted assassination of the sovereign himself had been current in Rome ever since he came back from Albania, where he had gone on his first visit since the original occupation of the country by Italian troops, and its incorporation under Italian rule.

Nothing was disclosed in authoritative quarters, however, until questioning of the assailant enabled authorities to make public today's version of the shooting.

PONTIAC WORKERS MAY QUIT

Just a Week After General Motors Corporation Averted Threatened Walkout in Sixty of Its Plants By Granting Wage Increases New Demands Are Made by CIO United Automobile Workers With Intent to Strike

NAVY MAY TAKE HAND IN 'FRISCO SITUATION

By the Associated Press
General Motors Corporation faced a new strike threat today at Pontiac, Mich.

Just a week after the big motor firm averted a threatened walkout in 60 of its plants by granting wage increases of 10 cents an hour, the Pontiac local of the CIO United Automobile Workers filed notice with the Michigan Labor Mediation Board of intent to strike. The union charged the plant management with anti-union activity.

The CIO-UAW announced yesterday that three GM locals had accepted the new wage-raising contract. They were the Oldsmobile plant at Lansing, Mich., the Fisher stamping plant at Grand Rapids, Mich., and the Chevrolet plant at Janesville, Wis.

At San Francisco, where a strike of 1,700 CIO and AFL machinists has tied up work by ten times that many men on a half billion dollars worth of ship building in 11 yards worked on some of the tied up ships, but would not try to force reopening of the struck yards.

Naval sources said some of the vessels might be towed to the Mare Island yard for completion. It was said only three days of machine work there would be required to convert one ship from a freighter to an airplane tender. Harry Hock, business agent of the AFL union, said "we'd be happy" if the government would take over the shipyards "under the same conditions as Mare Island."

The machinists want to keep double pay for overtime and ask $1.15 an hour regular pay. Under a government negotiated costwise agreement employers want to cut the overtime scale to time and a half and jump the former straight scale of $1 an hour to $1.12.

ATTACK ON CONVOY IS DESCRIBED

Five Thousand Germans Headed for Crete Aboard Hodge-Podge Escort Reported Drowned, an Italian Destroyer, Two Merchantmen and Forty Sailing Vessels Sunk in Single Three-Hour Assault by English Squadron

DRAMATIC STORY RELATED BY CAPTAIN

BY LARRY ALLEN
Alexandria, Egypt, May 24.—(P)—Five thousand Germans headed for Crete aboard a hodge-podge convoy have been reported drowned and an Italian destroyer, two merchantmen and 40 sailing vessels sunk in a single three-hour attack by a British naval squadron.

British naval officers declared last night that the shattered remnants of the convoy had headed back for Greece and that not a single German had reached Crete by sea.

These witnesses of the fiery onset in the dark hours before dawn Thursday said the Italian destroyer sank in flames from bow to stern after a single thunderous broadside by a British cruiser's six-inch guns.

The troop-laden merchantman and wooden sailing ships went down rammed and shell-riddled, the officers related, as three British cruisers and four destroyers ploughed again and again through the huddle of ships their searchlights picked out of the darkness.

The captain of a British anti-aircraft cruiser, the first to return to Alexandria, gave this account of the carnage:

"Three cruisers and four destroyers were steaming eastward from Suda Bay (Crete) when a destroyer in our screen opened fire on a darkened ship. This was our first indication that we were in contact with the enemy.

"We altered course, jammed on full speed, and entered the fray. Our destroyer fire was very effective. A great bonfire appeared on the ocean, apparently a merchantman burning from bow to stern.

"The first ship we saw on this cruise actually sighted was a large Italian destroyer.... It was not until we flashed a searchlight on her that we were certain she was Italian, lying the Italian ensign.

"We were at very close range and opened fire with our pom-poms. She then fired torpedoes and, avoiding them, this cruiser was masked by another cruiser.

"This other cruiser, however, thus got a clear view of the Italian destroyer and gave her a full broadside of six-inch guns, all of which seemed to hit.

EX-SENATOR IS MENTIONED IN JURIST'S CASE

Government Attorney Testifies at Trial of Retired Judge J. Warren Davis Regarding Conference With George Wharton Pepper

TRANSACTION DOUBTED

Philadelphia, May 24.—(P)—A government attorney testified today at the trial of retired Judge J. Warren Davis that during a federal investigation of the Third Circuit Court, jurist's affairs in 1938 there were a "number" of Davis' financial transactions "it was impossible for us to explain."

The witness, Whiting Willauer, a former special deputy attorney general assigned to the Davis' investigation, appeared briefly before the trial recessed until Monday.

Willauer, now a special counsel for the Federal Power Commission, told of a meeting in 1939 with Davis and his attorney, former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper.

He said he told Pepper that "we did not see where Judge Davis got the money to participate" in various financial transactions with banks and brokerage houses.

HIGH OFFICER IN REICH FORCES IS REPORTED KILLED

Berlin, May 24.—(P)—Colonel General Ulrich Grauert, commander of a flying corps, has been killed while leading the fight against England," the Nazi High Command announced today.

Col. Gen. Grauert "met a hero's death," the High Command said. It did not, however, give the specific locale or any circumstances of his death.

The only intense air action in which a flying corps commander would have led his pilots in the last week would appear to be the Nazi air-borne invasion of Crete, which the High Command has not yet mentioned in any official announcement. It has, however, given daily reports of large-scale bombing of British fleets units in the water about Crete.

Last night's air attacks on England were the first since Sunday night, and these were so light it was believed most improbable that a corps commander would have been engaged in them.

As a Colonel General Grauert ranked only one grade below field marshal, He was promoted to his (Turn To Page Nine)

By the Associated Press
Pennsylvania's 72-hour death toll from heat and thunderstorms reached nine today as lightning snuffed out the lives of two high school students.

James Smith and Fred Kurawski, both 15, were killed at Conshohocken when a bolt struck a tree under which they sought shelter from a sudden electrical disturbance. Their companion, Theodore Deleva, 17, died today in Montgomery Hospital from severe burns.

Hail smashed windows in about 25 homes and stripped foliage from trees and farm plants in the vicinity of Hopland, Northern Lancaster county. Wind uprooted several trees at Ephrata. High winds did some damage in the Norristown area.

PHILADELPHIA HAS THREE-ALARM FIRE

Philadelphia, May 24.—(P)—A three-alarm fire swept the National Waste Company plant today, destroying 1,500,000 pounds of waste, including a shipment of 15,000 pounds to have been delivered to the Frankford arsenal.

A. C. Flexner, superintendent of the company, estimated the damage at $500,000. The origin of the blaze was not immediately determined.

A series of explosions endangered firemen as the flames shot high in the air before the roof of the four-and-a-half-story stone and plaster structure collapsed within an hour after the alarm was sounded.

The plant is located in the northwestern Manayunk section of the city.

Lindbergh and Wheeler Carry Fight Against Participation at Meeting in New York Today

New York, May 24.—(P)—Charles A. Lindbergh and Senator Robert A. Wheeler (D-Mont.) pressed their speeches last night that United States participation in the European war would mean the end of American democracy.

They spoke in Madison Square Garden, a rally sponsored by the American First Committee and attended by a crowd estimated by police at 10,000.

Lindbergh, who opposed United States participation in the conflict because "I do not believe that our government in American way of life can survive participation."

WAR MATERIALS GOING TO AXIS GILLETTE SAYS

Iowa Senator Determined To Press for Establishment of Joint Congressional Committee to Investigate Situation

ABUSES IN PETROLEUM

Washington, May 24.—(P)—Declaring he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to the Axis powers "in scores and scores" of instances, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today he would press for establishment of a joint congressional committee to investigate.

"It is a strange thing," Gillette said, "that we are spending such vast sums to aid one side in the war and that we still allow vital war materials to go to the Axis countries. The people are entitled to know the facts about the situation."

The Iowa senator, continuing an interview, asserted that "the most flagrant reported abuses have been in the petroleum industry" and added:

"Motor fuel supplied by United States companies has been leaving Latin American ports for Germany and Italy.

"The Dutch East Indies recently have increased their allocation of petroleum to Japan and this is being refined and transported by British and American companies. West coast shipments of petroleum to Japan have increased tremendously since the first of the year, and the Japanese now are running virtually a ferry service to get it across."

In some instances, Gillette declared, American companies have worked through foreign subsidiaries to send materials to the Axis countries or have acted as American agents for German companies.

"We now are paying royalties to Germany on every inch of the special glass used in the manufacture of our warplanes," he added. "We also are paying royalties to Germany on a substance used in making airplane wings."

Gillette already has introduced a resolution to create a joint investigating committee composed of five senators and five representatives.

MANY DEAD IN PENN'A STORMS

By the Associated Press
Pennsylvania's 72-hour death toll from heat and thunderstorms reached nine today as lightning snuffed out the lives of two high school students.

James Smith and Fred Kurawski, both 15, were killed at Conshohocken when a bolt struck a tree under which they sought shelter from a sudden electrical disturbance. Their companion, Theodore Delewa, 17, died today in Montgomery Hospital from severe burns.

Hail smashed windows in about 25 homes and stripped foliage from trees and farm plants in the vicinity of Hopeland, Northern Lancaster county. Wind uprooted several trees at Ephrata. High winds did some damage in the Norris-town area.

Western Pennsylvania's storm accounted for its third victim with the death of Stanley Pisowicz, 28, (Turn To Page Nine)

PONTIAC WORKERS MAY QUIT

Just a Week After General Motors Corporation Averted Threatened Walk-out in Sixty of Its Plants By Granting Wage Increases New Demands Are Made by CIO United Automobile Workers With Intent to Strike

NAVY MAY TAKE HAND IN 'FRISCO SITUATION

By the Associated Press
General Motors Corporation faced a new strike threat today at Pontiac, Mich.

Just a week after the big motor firm averted a threatened walkout in 60 of its plants by granting wage increases of 10 cents an hour, the Pontiac local of the CIO United Automobile Workers filed notice with the Michigan Labor Mediation Board of intent to strike. The union charged the plant management with anti-union activity.

The CIO-UAW announced yesterday that three GM locals had accepted the new, wage-raising contract. They were the Oldsmobile plant at Lansing, Mich., the Fisher stamping plant at Grand Rapids, Mich., and the Chevrolet plant at Janesville, Wis.

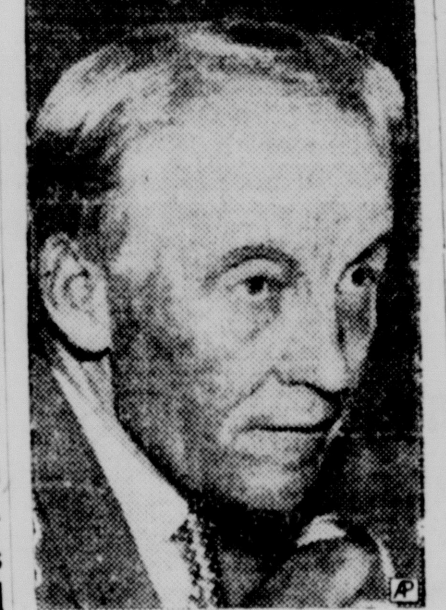

At San Francisco, where a strike of 1,700 CIO and AFL machinists has tied up work by ten times that many men on a half billion dollars worth of ship building in 11 yards worked on some of the tied up ships, but would not try to force reopening of the struck yards.

Naval sources said some of the vessels might be moved to the Mare Island yard for completion. It was said only three days of machine work there would be required to convert one ship from a freighter into an airplane tender. Harry Hock, business agent of the AFL union, said "we'd be happy" if the government would take over the shipyards "under the same conditions as Mare Island."

The machinists want to keep double pay for overtime and ask $1.15 an hour regular pay. Under government negotiated coastwise agreement employers want to cut the overtime scale to time and a half and jump the former straight scale of $1 an hour to $1.12.

Ex-Congressman Is Hurt in Auto Crash

St. Marys, May 24.—(P)—D. J. Driscoll, trustee for the Associated Gas and Electric Company, New York, was injured yesterday in an automobile accident 12 miles east of St. Marys. The former chairman of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission was en route to his home here from New York when his automobile overturned. Several of his ribs were reported broken.

ATTACK ON CONVOY IS DESCRIBED

Five Thousand Germans Headed for Crete Aboard Hodge-Podge Escort Reported Drowned, an Italian Destroyer, Two Merchantmen and Forty Sailing Vessels Sunk in Single Three-Hour Assault by English Squadron

DRAMATIC STORY RELATED BY CAPTAIN

BY LARRY ALLEN
Alexandria, Egypt, May 24.—(P)—Five thousand Germans headed for Crete aboard a hodge-podge convoy have been reported drowned and an Italian destroyer, two merchantmen and 40 sailing vessels sunk in a single three-hour attack by a British naval squadron.

British naval officers declared last night that the shattered remnants of the convoy had headed back for Greece and that not a single German had reached Crete by sea.

These witnesses of the fiery onset in the dark hours before dawn Thursday said the Italian destroyer sank in flames from bow to stern after a single thunderous broadside by a British cruiser's six-inch guns.

The troop-laden merchantman and wooden sailing ships went down rammed and shell-riddled, the officers related, as three British cruisers and four destroyers ploughed again and again through the huddle of ships their searchlights picked out of the darkness.

The captain of a British anti-aircraft cruiser, the first to return to Alexandria, gave this account of the carnage:

"Three cruisers and four destroyers were steaming eastward from Suda Bay (Crete) when a destroyer in our screen opened fire on a darkened ship. This was our first intimation that we were in contact with the enemy.

"We altered course, jammed on full speed, and entered the fray.

"Our destroyer fire was very effective. A great bonfire appeared on the ocean, apparently a merchantman burning from bow to stern.

"The first ship we on this cruise actually sighted was a large Italian destroyer.... It was not until we flashed a searchlight on her that we were certain she was Italian, flying the Italian ensign.

"We were at very close range and opened fire with our pom-poms. She then fired torpedoes and, avoiding them, this cruiser was masked by another cruiser.

"This other cruiser, however, thus got a clear view of the Italian destroyer and gave her a full broadside of six-inch guns, all of which seemed to hit.

EX-SENATOR IS MENTIONED IN JURIST'S CASE

Government Attorney Testifies at Trial of Retired Judge J. Warren Davis Regarding Conference With George Wharton Pepper

Philadelphia, May 24.—(P)—A government attorney testified today at the trial of retired Judge J. Warren Davis that during a federal investigation of the Third Circuit Court jurist's affairs in 1939 there were a "number" of Davis' financial transactions "it was impossible for us to explain."

The witness, Whiting Willauer, a former special deputy attorney general assigned to the Davis' investigation, appeared briefly before the trial recessed until Monday.

Willauer, now a special counsel for the Federal Power Commission, told of a meeting in 1939 with Davis and his attorney, former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper.

He said he told Pepper that "we did not see where Judge Davis got the money to participate" in various financial transactions with banks and brokerage houses.

HIGH OFFICER IN REICH FORCES IS REPORTED KILLED

Berlin, May 24.—(P)—Colonel General Ulrich Grauert, commander of a flying corps, has been killed "while leading the fight against England," the Nazi High Command announced today.

Col. Gen. Grauert "met a hero's death," the High Command said. It did not, however, give the specific locale or any circumstances of his death.

The only intense air action in which a flying corps commander would have led his pilots in the last week would appear to be the Nazi air-borne invasion of Crete, which the High Command has not yet mentioned in any official announcement. It has, however, given daily reports of large-scale bombing of British fleets units in the water about Crete.

Last night's air attacks on England were the first since Sunday night, and these were so light it was believed most improbable that a corps commander would have been engaged in them.

Fight Hearing Put Over Until Monday

Washington, May 24.—(P)—The District of Columbia boxing commission today postponed until Monday a hearing on Buddy Baer's claim that he was fouled by Joe Louis in last night's heavy weight fight and therefore was entitled to the championship.

Baer claimed he was struck after the bell sounded ending the sixth round. He was disqualified by Referee Arthur Donovan after his handlers refused to permit him to come out for the seventh round.

At the same time Promoter Mike Jacobs issued a statement saying he would put Baer and Louis back in a return match next month "if Billy Conn does not look good in his fight with Buddy Knox in Pittsburgh Monday night." Conn is scheduled to fight Louis in New York on June 18.

PHILADELPHIA HAS THREE-ALARM FIRE

Philadelphia, May 24.—(P)—A three-alarm fire swept the National Waste Company plant today, destroying 1,500,000 pounds of waste, including a shipment of 15,000 pounds to have been delivered to the Frankford arsenal.

A. C. Flexner, superintendent of the company, estimated the damage at $500,000. The origin of the blaze was not immediately determined.

A series of explosions endangered firemen as the flames shot high in the air before the roof of the four-story structure collapsed within an hour after the alarm was sounded.

The plant is located in the northwestern Manayunk section of the city.

Lindbergh and Wheeler Carry Fight Against Participation at Meeting in New York Today

New York, May 24.—(P)—Charles A. Lindbergh and Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont.) predicted in speeches last night that United States participation in the European war would mean the end of American democracy.

They spoke at a rally sponsored by the America First Committee and attended by a crowd estimated by police at 20,000.

Lindbergh opposed United States entry into the conflict because, he said, "I do not believe that our system of government in America, and our way of life can survive our participation."

It was Wheeler's thought that if the president accepts the advice of little coterie who surround him x x x he will wage an undeclared war. And then—constitutional democracy will end."

Lindbergh pleaded for a leadership that would do "what Washington did for us when we were only 3,000,000 people, a leadership that tells what it means and means what it says."

The country, crying out against war, he said, "demands an explanation of what happened at the elections last November. It demands an accounting from a government that has led us to war while it promised us peace."

Boos and yells echoed through the Garden when John T. Flynn, chairman of the New York chapter of the America First Committee, repudiated any Nazi support of the rally.

Brief Associated Press News Dispatches

New York, May 24.—(P)—Globe Wireless today quoted an official German radio broadcast as saying that the German battleship Bismarck had "destroyed" a British battle cruiser near Iceland and that the battle cruiser may have been the Hood, one of the most powerful warships in the world.

On the French-Spanish Frontier, May 22.—(Delayed)—(P)—An American woman survivor from the torpedoed Egyptian motorship Zanzam, sunk by a Nazi raider in the southern Atlantic April 17, said today that she and her six children were machine-gunned after they had taken to a lifeboat.

New York, May 24.—(P)—The Herald Tribune said today that Dr. Kurt Rieth, German diplomat, has been in New York almost two months, "charged with the job of buying up rich American-owned oil properties in eastern Europe, now almost valueless to citizens of the United States."

London, May 24.—(P)—The Royal Air Force blasted the industrial city of Cologne last night in its first attack on western Germany since Sunday and also pounded the Nazi-occupied French coast around Boulogne, the British reported today.

Berlin, May 24.—(P)—The German high command today acknowledged that buildings were damaged by RAF bombers overnight in Cologne and Duesseldorf, and that a small number of civilians were killed and wounded in various western German localities.

Camden, N. J., May 24.—(P)—Physicians at Cooper Hospital today considered summoning a bronchoscopic specialist to remove a toy airplane from the throat of four-year-old Augusta Fischer,

FORMER WARREN CITIZEN HEAD OF BANK GROUP

A former Warren resident became president of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association yesterday when Archie D. Swift, president of the Central-Penn National Bank of Philadelphia, was unanimously elected to that position at the association's 47th annual convention, held in Atlantic City. Mr. Swift was vice president of the association during the past year and was formerly treasurer.

Mr. Swift began his banking career in 1892 when he entered the service of the Ridgway National Bank. In 1895 he was employed by the Elk County National Bank of Ridgway and in 1902 he left that bank to become teller of the Citizens National Bank in Warren. While in Warren, Mr. Swift was a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian church. A sister-in-law, Miss Margie Thompson, resides at 212 East street.

Returning to the Elk County National Bank in Ridgway, he was elected cashier in 1906 and held that position until November, 1918, when he went to the Central National Bank in Philadelphia as assistant cashier. He was elected cashier of that bank in 1919 and three years later became vice president. January 1, 1929, Mr. Swift was advanced to the presidency. When the Central National Bank was merged with the Penn National Bank, Mr. Swift was named president of the combined institutions, the Central-Penn National Bank of Philadelphia.

Mr. Swift was born in North East, Pa., the son of Charles James and Josephine Swift. Most of his early life was spent in Ridgway where he was educated in the public schools.

In addition to his banking position, Mr. Swift is chairman of the Philadelphia Clearing House Committee, a director of the Schlichter, Jute Cordage Company, a director of the Philadelphia and Western Railway, chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania Title Insurance Company, a trustee of Beaver College and a trustee of Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades.

Mr. Swift lives at Wayne. He is a member of the Wayne Presbyterian church, a member of the Masonic fraternity, the St. David's Golf Club of which he is president, a member of the Pine Valley Golf Club and the Downtown Club. Mr. Swift is the treasurer and a director of the Union League.

Large Crowd Expected to Attend New Citizens Day Program Sunday

A large crowd is expected at the court house here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock when the New Citizens Day program, sponsored by the Warren Lodge of Elks, will be held for those who have become United States citizens during the past year.

New citizens will gather at the high school at 3:45 o'clock and be escorted to the court house by the Dragon Band. Addison White, county prothonotary and chairman of the Elks' Americanization and National Defense Committee, will preside at the gathering.

The program will open with a selection by the Warren High School Band and the invocation will be given by Mayor D. E. Flinn of the Salvation Army. This will be followed by a baritone solo, "Be a Good Neighbor," by Reginald DeKoven, sung by Roger Webster, with Meredith Young at the piano.

Mr. White then will address the new citizens and following another selection by the high school band, the principal address will be given by Dr. Harold C. Warren, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Another selection, "Invictus," by Bruno Huhn, will be sung by Mr. Webster. The program will close with the pledge to the flag by the new citizens and the singing of God Bless America by the entire audience.

Following the program, the new citizens will be taken to the Elks Club, where they will be served a buffet lunch.

FINAL DAY OF METZGER SALE

He owes his diploma to EXTRA MONEY

HIS mother's illness nearly ended this boy's education. But a loan provided the extra money needed to cover both hospital and college expense at the same time. Pay from the son's first job will soon help his father clear the loan. In fact, all his life, the son will earn more because he was able to finish his professional training. In such cases, or in any case where extra money is needed, it is a pleasure for us to be able to help.

FORMER WARREN CITIZEN HEAD OF BANK GROUP

A former Warren resident became president of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association yesterday when Archie D. Swift, president of the Central-Penn National Bank, of Philadelphia, was unanimously elevated to that position at the association's 47th annual convention, held in Atlantic City. Mr. Swift was vice president of the association during the past year and was formerly treasurer.

Mr. Swift began his banking career in 1892, when he entered the service of the Ridgway National Bank. In 1893 he was employed by the Elk County National Bank of Ridgway, and in 1902 he left that bank to become teller of the Citizens National Bank in Warren. While in Warren, Mr. Swift was a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian church. A sister-in-law, Miss Margia Thompson, resides at 212 East street.

Returning to the Elk County National Bank in Ridgway, he was elected cashier in 1906 and held that position until November, 1916, when he went to the Central National Bank in Philadelphia as assistant cashier. He was elected cashier of that bank in 1919 and three years later became vice president. January 1, 1929, Mr. Swift was advanced to the presidency. When the Central National Bank was merged with the Penn National Bank, Mr. Swift was named president of the combined institutions, the Central-Penn National Bank of Philadelphia.

Mr. Swift was born in North East, Pa., the son of Charles James and Josephine Swift. Most of his early life was spent in Ridgway, where he was educated in the public schools.

In addition to his banking position, Mr. Swift is chairman of the Philadelphia Clearing House Committee, a director of the Schlichter Jute Cordage Company, a director of the Philadelphia and Western Railway, chairman of the board of the Pennsylvania Title Insurance Company, a trustee of Beaver College and a trustee of Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades.

Mr. Swift lives at Wayne. He is a member of the Wayne Presbyterian church, a member of the Masonic fraternity, the St. David's Golf Club of which he is president, a member of the Pine Valley Golf Club and the Downtown Club. Mr. Swift is the treasurer and a director of the Union League.

Large Crowd Expected to Attend New Citizens Day Program Sunday

A large crowd is expected at the court house here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock when the New Citizens Day program, sponsored by the Warren Lodge of Elks, will be held for those who have become United States citizens during the past year.

New citizens will gather at the high school at 3:45 o'clock and be escorted to the court house by the Dragon Band. Addison White, county probatory and chairman of the Elks' Americanization and National Defense Committee, will preside at the gathering.

The program will open with a selection by the Warren High School Band and the invocation will be given by Major B. E. Flinn, of the Salvation Army. This will be followed by a baritone solo, "Recessional" by Reginald DeKoven, sung by Roger Webster, with Meredith Young at the piano.

Mr. White then will address the new citizens and, following another selection by the high school band, the principal address will be given by Dr. Harold C. Warren, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Another selection, "Invictus" by Bruno Huhm, will be sung by Mr. Webster. The program will close with the pledge to the flag by the new citizens and the singing of God Bless America by the entire audience.

Following the program, the new citizens will be taken to the Elks Club, where they will be served a buffet lunch.

SCOUTS RECEIVE MERIT BADGES

Troop 9, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Men's Club of the First Methodist church held a Board of Review recently which established quite a troop record for advancement. Two Scouts were advanced to the rank of Second Class; and thirteen merit badges were passed.

Advanced to the rank of Second Class Scout were Alan Babcock and Jack Eaton. Merit Badges in chemistry, reading, scholarship, aviation, music and civics were awarded to Corvin Skillman; in aviation, reading, electricity and civics to Clifford Hoover; personal health to James E. Richards, Jr.; first aid and civics to Donald Karl.

Members of the reviewing board were C. A. Miller, E. T. Judd, Ronald Dawson, I. A. Reed and C. A. Babcock.

AMUSEMENTS

ACTION, LAUGHTER, COMEDY IN DOUBLE FEATURE OFFERING AT COLUMBIA TODAY & SUNDAY

"Repent At Leisure"
Wendy Barrie, popular young star, who recently scored in several of the "Saint" mystery thrillers, portrays a different type of role in her current RKO Radio vehicle, "Repent At Leisure," in which she is co-featured with Kent Taylor.

Miss Barrie is cast as a romantically inclined heiress who rebels against her scheming mother's efforts to marry her off to a foreign title, and finally falls in love with a poor clerk who is unaware of her social position and wealth.

Frank Woodruff, decorated, and Rafael Storm, George Barbier, Nella Walker and Thurston Hall enact supporting roles.

"Lone Star Raiders"
The Three Mesquiteers ride again. This time in a 1940 story of today in which Uncle Sam sends out a draft call for horses as well as men. Audiences will greet the modern western "Lone Star Raiders" with enthusiasm at the Columbia Theatre today and Sunday.

The trio, Bob Livingston, Bob Steele and Rex Davis are at their best in this, the third Mesquiteer film of the new series.

THE SACRED DAGGER

YESTERDAY: Anne Willard, with Blaze Sherwood and Pete Mackey, have been in the neighborhood of a Mongolian enigma, and are now in the reasonably tolerant custody of the headman of a tiny village. He plans to take the lot of them to the authorities, and Anne has gone to find a woman who speaks English, hoping that she may persuade her to give them some help. The woman has taken refuge in a sheepfold from her irate husband.

Chapter Six Sudden Plans

THE woman had already bedded down for the night. She sat up amiably and lighted a candle when Anne appeared. Presently she admitted that she understood and could talk a bit of English, that she had known all along the travelers were English and not Tibetan, though she had told no one. Her name was Khalima.

Anne showed her a coin, and the woman's eyes gleamed. She agreed gladly to circumvent the men of her family and save the white woman from being taken to the Emir.

At the same time, she declared, the safest place to hide from the Emir was in his own palace. His wife, the princess, would help them, and contrive an escape across the border. She, also, had attended a mission school. Khalima was her slave girl at the time. Now Khalima's mother cooked in the harem.

They could easily gain admittance with Anne in disguise. Tonight they should go to the caravan across the hills on the main caravan route to the capital.

All this sudden and dramatic planning left Anne a bit breathless, but she determined to follow the woman. At least it was better than facing imprisonment. Khalima went bustling about in the shed, wrapping herself in sheepskins and binding her feet in rags, when suddenly they heard foot-steps approaching.

Sherwood appeared. "You stayed away so long you had me worried," he said, coming to Anne out of the gloom. "Have you been able to talk to her?"

"I have," she replied, motioning for him to stand beside her. "She is a pile of fleeces. Khalima's feeling resentful against all men just now and thinks we can make her relatives believe I wandered away in the storm and became lost. They'll not make much effort to find me since I'm only a woman, she says, because a woman who cannot take care of herself is not worth worrying about. She's going to hide me."

"Where?"

"I'd rather not say. I'll be helped to escape across the border to Chuka."

He petted an inquisitive sheep that came up and nosed him.

"Even the sheep find you irresistible," she jested.

"I hope that's a lesson to you to cease fighting me," he grinned.

She shook her head. "I'm one of those disagreeably independent girls."

"There's a remedy for that—when I have time to get around to it." He pushed the sheep away. "Did your father send a note by the Nagara priest to meet you?"

"How do you know that man was a priest?" she asked. "He had a woman with him and he talked to me in English."

"Both of them together are one priest."

She stared at him. "What kind of mathematics is that where one plus one equals one?"

Doddad

HE LAUGHED. "What did you think of those two who came to you?"

"They were strange," she said thoughtfully. "Less childlike and sly than most primitive people, but somehow more—dangerous."

He nodded. "Smart girl. You're going to be a credit to our profession. You haven't told me yet if your father sent a note by the Nagara."

"Why didn't you stay that night at Jus Masar and find out?"

"I didn't want to complicate things for you."

She looked at him curiously. "Just why were you there?"

"I hesitated for a moment. I wanted to see the girl who rated receiving the Nagara dagger."

"And what about the little bird that warned you?"

"Oh, that," he laughed. "It was the hermit who lives nearby. I'd made friends with him."

"How did you know I'd be there?"

Doddad divined it. He's a prophet, a seer. I didn't believe him but I fear over just now," he faltered and smiled—"to see if he was right. And there you were. I guess he got me going."

They gazed at each other until he brought himself back with an effort. "Yes, father sent a note. Would you like to know what was in it?"

He gave her a sidelong glance. He told her they had been captured by the Nagaras and for you to go ahead as planned. They are negotiating with the Nagaras, and we are to go ahead as planned. But the only plan I can think of was a hope to gain permission from the Chinese governor to set up a radio they took with them for the purpose of sending out news of any discoveries they might make."

"He might refer to your plan to marry Dr. Oliver."

"Of course not," she cried impatiently. "It is something important—something to do with this new project." Then she relaxed. "But Dr. Oliver probably knows what he means by 'plans' and 'prophesy' and will tell me when I see him—if I see him."

Sherwood put a hand over hers. "You'll see him—if I know anything about it, you don't want to tell me how this woman is going to help you?"

"Quite sure," she replied and turned her hand in his to clasp it. "But I want you to know I'm grateful to you for bringing me through, alive today. And now good-bye. A sudden constraint fell between them. Khalima went to another shed on some errand and while she was gone Sherwood left.

Anne heard the dogs barking outside and feared for a moment that the man might have been looking for his sheep. Khalima returned with the assurance that he was undoubtedly deep in his usual opium sleep by now. She herself was ready to travel.

Old Lady

BLOWING snow obliterated their tracks almost as soon as made. When they had passed the last house in the village and struck off up a side canyon with a black ribbon of water running between snow-covered banks, caught hold of the older woman's belt, bent her head to the storm and plodded doggedly along. On the far side of the divide they found the wind less severe. The path lay down a bare, story ground. How Khalima could find her way was more than Anne knew, but within the hour as she had promised, they came to a caravanserai. It was a mud walled building of rows of rooms surrounding a central square. On three sides, Khalima took Anne into the owner's section of the inn and the Mohammedan woman of the place promised to help them.

The next day was clear and warm with a return of spring weather. Anne expected to see Sherwood and Mackey come some time during the day on their way to the capital, but they did not show up.

She and the women spent the afternoon perfecting her disguise, blackening her teeth with laquer, rubbing her face with grease and soot, building a cotton jump for her back and selecting the ragged clothing appropriate for a pilgrim grandmother.

"It's a good thing for me," she thought, "that Chinese influence makes the aged respected in this Mohammedan section of the country."

Finally she took her purse mirror and looked at herself. "Heavens," she cried in dismay, "can this be my parents' daughter?" The women giggled, though they didn't understand her. "My face looks like a polished cannon ball," she moaned and proceeded to streak it with wrinkle lines, accepting a striped shawl to wrap her head in.

That evening she went out into the public kitchen for practice and crouched in a corner and began muttering to herself as an old crone should.

A camel caravan just came in from the south. The men were squatted about in little groups drinking tea and chattering in half a dozen dialects.

Khalima giggled near by, her fingers busy with a spindle making yarn, watched anxiously when one of the men, a little bird-like fellow with a bird-like voice, approached Anne. With the air of a kindly fellow remembering his own mother he offered the old woman a pinch of tobacco. Khalima hastily produced a little clay pipe, tamped the bowl full, brought a coal and gave Anne the pipe to smoke.

She took an experimental puff with mixed emotions remembering that many natives add opium to their tobacco, and then handed the pipe to her woman to finish. The man dropped down crosslegged and began talking to Khalima who listened as intently as if he were making love to her. He was telling her fortune. Anne learned afterwards. He had a shaven head, an ageless, sexless yellow face, a wide, numerous mouth curved like a bird bill, and the brightest little black eyes Anne had ever seen outside the animal kingdom.

Presently he drew from the blouse of little garments a bone flute, a book and a bell. Then Anne knew he must be a lama. He began beating the drum and intoning a prayer.

NEA Service Correspondent
Toronto, May 24—With a fanfare of posters and advertising of all kinds, Canada has started a national salvage collection campaign to gather waste of every sort—metals, rags, bones and papers—for use in the making of the tools of war.

Canadians are learning that household bones, whether cooked or chewed on by the dog, can be used to make glue for airplanes. It is pointed out that if every household gave two ounces of bones weekly, Canada could annually salvage 10,000,000 pounds of bones.

Last year Canada had to import rags to the value of $3,800,000. This year it is hoped that the salvage campaign will bring enough graded paper, waste typing paper and other materials to cut the imports to a minimum. Canadians are advised that there are twenty kinds of rags recognized by valuers of the federal Parliament in charge of their own contributions.

The salvage campaign has been arranged as a national effort under the electoral districts with members of the federal Parliament in charge of their own contributions.

May 31st is also the final date for placing with the county office orders for conservation materials which automatically entitles the farmer so ordering in the 1941 program.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, May 20—Sugar Grove Joint Vocational School commencement plans have been announced as follows by Principal A. H. Frank: Vesper service, Sunday, June 1st, at the United Brethren church at Chancellers Valley, with the pastor, Rev. J. Leoni Maneval, delivering the address.

Monday evening, June 2, Class Night program. Tuesday evening, June 3rd, the commencement program will be given with S. Miles Bouton, of Jamestown, as the speaker of the evening.

The eighth grade commencement of the Sugar Grove Borough school will be Wednesday evening, June 4th. School will close on Thursday, June 5th. The Senior-Junior banquet will take place, Friday evening, May 23rd.

The clothing exhibit, given by the home economics department of the school, was enjoyed by a large number of interested persons at the auditorium, Friday afternoon. Virginia White, Helen Drake, Marian Anderson, and Margaret Brown were the committee of girls who, under the direction of their advisor, Miss Kathryn Kessler, organized the program and wrote the script used for the program. A string ensemble of the school under the direction of their instructor, Mrs. William Smith, played several numbers. Rodney Engstrom, played a cornet solo, and a trio composed of Gerald Kessler, Louis Felt, and Donald Haggerty, danced up for the occasion in overalls and straw hats played two numbers. Martha Ann Grant presented a dance number. The exhibit consisted of pajamas, slacks suits, shorts, blouses, jerseys, jackets, sport dresses, afternoon dresses, suits and formal gowns, and remodeled garments. Special mention should be made of the very fine remodeling work of the girls, which was exhibited.

Among the outstanding garments were a tailored suit, remodeled and shown by Marian Sward; a cape dress, fashioned on military lines and modeled by Mercedes Anderreg; tailored garments by Helen Drake, remodeled garments by Virginia White, suits by Alice Falconer, and formal gowns by Helen Abbott and Kathryn Sands. Hammered copper accessories were modeled by Helen Abbott. About thirty girls exhibited garments they have made, and presented a very interesting style show, which was a credit to the splendid work being done by this department of the school.

Mrs. Albert Loomis was pleasantly surprised at her home Thursday evening, when several relatives and friends gathered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Hodges, to help her celebrate her 84th birthday. Mrs. Loomis is one of Sugar Grove's oldest residents having lived in this community for many years, coming here from Belfast, Ireland, as a small child. Relatives from Warren were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Loomis, Mrs. F. L. Kirberger, Miss Rachel Trafton, and Harry Confer. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Loomis and family. The evening was served socially and refreshments served.

The Womodauss Class met Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Mahan, with thirteen members present. Mrs. Arthur Stauffer, president, Mrs. Arthur Stauffer, president,

THE SACRED DAGGER

YESTERDAY: Anne Willard, with Blaze Sherwood and Pete Mackey, have landed in the middle of a Mongolian snowstorm, and are now in the reasonably tolerant custody of the headman of a tiny village. He plans to take the lot of them to the authorities, and Anne has gone to find a woman who speaks English, hoping that she may persuade her to give them some help. The woman has taken refuge in a sheepfold from her irate husband.

Chapter Six Sudden Plans

THE woman had already bedded down for the night. She sat up amiably and lighted a candle when Anne appeared. Evidently she admitted that she understood and could talk a bit of English, that she had known all along the travelers were English and not Tibetan, though she had told no one. Her name was Khalima.

Anne showed her a coin, and the woman's eyes gleamed. She agreed gladly to circumvent the meanness of her family and save the white woman from being taken to the Emir.

At the same time, she declared, the safest place to hide from the Emir was in his own palace. His wife, the princess, would help them and contrive an escape across the border. She also, had attended a mission school. Khalima was her slave girl at the time. Now Khalima's mother cooked in the harem.

They could easily gain admittance with Anne in disguise. Tonight they should go to a serial an hour across the hills on the main caravan route to the capital.

All this sudden and dramatic planning left Anne a bit breathless, but she determined to follow the woman. At least it was better than facing imprisonment. Khalima went bustling about in the shed, wrapping herself in sheep skins and binding her feet in rags, when suddenly they heard foot-steps approaching.

Sherwood appeared. "You stayed away so long you had me worried," he said, coming to Anne out of the gloom. "Have you been able to talk to her?"

"I have," she replied, motioning for him to sit down beside her on a pile of fleeces. "Khalima's feeling resentful against all men just now and thinks we can make her believe I wonder away in the storm and became lost. They'll not make much effort to find me since I'm only a woman, she says, because a woman who cannot take care of herself is not worth worrying about. She's going to hide me."

"Where?"

"I'd rather not say. I'll be helped to escape across the border to Chuka."

He petted an inquisitive sheep that came up and nosed him.

"Even the sheep find you irresistible," she jested.

"I hope that's a lesson to you to cease fighting me," he grinned. She shook her head. "I'm one of those disagreeably independent girls."

"There's a remedy for that—when I have time to get around to it." He pushed the sheep away. "Did your father send a note by the Nagara priest who met you?"

"How do you know that man was a priest?" she asked. "He had a woman with him and he talked to me in English."

"Both of them together are one priest."

She stared at him. "What kind of mathematics is that where one plus one equals one?"

Doddap

HE LAUGHED. "What did you think of those two who came to you?"

"They were strange," she said thoughtfully. "Less childlike and sly than most primitive people, but somehow more—dangerous."

He nodded. "Smart girl. You're going to be a credit to our profession. You haven't told me yet if your father sent a note by the Nagara priest."

"Why didn't you stay that night at Jus Masar and find out?"

"I didn't want to complicate things for you."

She looked at him curiously. "Just why were you there?"

He hesitated a moment. "I wanted to see the girl who rated receiving the Nagara dagger."

"And what about the little bird that warned you?"

"Oh, that," he laughed. "It was the hermit who lives nearby. I'd made friends with him."

"How did you know I'd be there?"

"Doddap divined it. He's a prophet, a seer. I didn't believe him but I flew over just to—" he faltered and smiled—"to see if he was right. And there you were. I guess he's got me going."

They gazed at each other until she brought her back with an effort. "Yes, father sent a note. Would you like to know what was in it?"

He gave her a sidelong glance. "He told you they had been cap-

SUGGEST OIL COMPACT

Directors of the Bradford district, Pennsylvania Oil Producers' Association, have adopted a resolution urging the commonwealth to join an interstate oil compact to conserve oil and gas by eliminating waste. New York state has adopted a bill to enter the agreement providing Pennsylvania does. Already in the compact are Texas, Illinois, Oklahoma, Colorado, Michigan, New Mexico, Kansas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

SET CLOSING DATE

The Warren County Agricultural Conservation Committee has announced that May 31st is the last date on which Warren county farmers may enroll for participation in the 1941 conservation program. Many farmers have failed to enroll to the county office in the court house a signed form recently mailed which is necessary for enrollment. May 31st is also the final date for placing with the county office orders for conservation materials which automatically enrolls the farmer so ordering in the 1941 program.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, May 20.—Sugar Grove Joint Vocational School commencement plans have been announced as follows by Principal A. H. Frank: Vesper service, Sunday, June 1st, at the United Brethren church at Chanders Valley, with the pastor, Rev. J. Leon Maneval, delivering the address.

Monday evening, June 2, Class Night program. Tuesday evening, June 3rd, the commencement program will be given with S. Miles Bouton, of Jamestown, as the speaker of the evening.

The eighth grade commencement of the Sugar Grove Borough school will be Wednesday evening, June 4th. School will close on Thursday, June 5th. The Senior Junior banquet will take place, Friday evening, May 23rd.

The clothing exhibit, given by the home economics department of the school, was enjoyed by a large number of interested persons at the auditorium, Friday afternoon. Virginia White, Helen Drake, Marian Anderson, and Margaret Brown were the committee of girls who, under the direction of their advisor, Miss Kathryn Kessler, organized the program and wrote the script for the program.

A string ensemble of the school under the direction of their instructor, Mrs. William Smith, played several numbers. Rodney Engstrom, played a cornet solo, and a trio composed of Gerald Kelley, Louis Patmore and Donald Haggerty, dressed up for the occasion in overalls and straw hats played two numbers. Martha Ann Grant presented a dance number. The exhibit consisted of pajamas, slacks, shorts, blouses, jerseys, jackets, sport dresses, afternoon dresses, suits and formal gowns, and remodeled garments. Special mention should be made of the very fine remodeling work of the girls, which was exhibited.

Among the outstanding garments were a tailored suit, remodeled and shown by Marian Sward; a cape dress, fashioned on military lines and modeled by Mercedes Anderregg; tailored garments by Helen Drake; remodeled garments by Virginia White, suits by Alice Falconer, and formal gowns by Helen Abbott and Kathryn Sands. Hammered copper accessories were modeled by Helen Abbott. About thirty girls exhibited garments they have made, and presented a very interesting style show, which was a credit to the splendid work being done by this department of the school.

Mrs. Albert Loomis was pleasantly surprised at her home Thursday evening, when several relatives and friends gathered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Hodges, to help her celebrate her 84th birthday. Mrs. Loomis is one of Sugar Grove's oldest residents, having lived in this community for many years, coming here from Belfast, Ireland, as a small child. Relatives from Warren were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Loomis, Mrs. F. L. Kirberger, Miss Rachel Trafton, and Harry Confer. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Loomis and family. The evening was spent socially and refreshments served.

The Wimodausis Class met Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Mahan, with thirteen members present. Mrs. Arthur Stauffer, presi-

ed at a short business meeting and Mrs. Maude Minore presented the program, which consisted of devotions on the subject "The Second Coming of Christ." Mrs. Stauffer read a letter from a missionary in Scotland. Mrs. Olive Earlow read a poem, "A Metaphor" and Mrs. Mahan sang a solo, "I Read of a Beautiful City." The afternoon closed with a social time and refreshments.

Members and guests of the Rebekah Lodge participated in a mother and daughter party following lodge Friday night. Twenty-five were in attendance. The affair was arranged by a committee of Mrs. Elizabeth Devereaux, Mrs. Arnetta Devereaux and Mrs. Mary Phillips. Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Agnes Abbott, Miss Margaret Hamilton, Mrs. Alvera Peterson, Mrs. Melinda White, Miss Ardath Chandler, Miss Amelia Chandler, Mrs. Lella Frodelius, and Mrs. Priscilla Nobbs. Prizes went to Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Alma Rhodes, Mrs. Frodelius, Mrs. Nobbs, Mrs. Alton Brown and Mrs. R. Manross.

Lunch was served with Miss Hamilton pouring at a table decorated with pink carnations.

Mrs. Charles White and Mrs. Conrad Youngberg entertained twenty ladies at a dessert bridge party at the latter's home Saturday afternoon. The tables were decorated with red, white and blue bouquets. The color scheme was carried out in the home, in other appointments. Prizes for high scores were received by Mrs. J. A. McIntosh and Mrs. Scott Stuart. Mrs. Harold Fitch was an out of town guest.

The N. B. Club is sponsoring a benefit card party for the Girl Scouts' camp fund, at the home economics building at eight o'clock, Thursday evening.

Several of the young ladies spent Friday evening in Warren at the home of Mrs. Albert Hartman, who gave a party for Mrs. William Duff. Lovely gifts were received by Mrs. Duff for her baby daughter Perelope Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richmond and daughter Janet, and Walter

Sweeney, were called to Peru, Ind., Monday, by the death of Mr. Richmond's brother, Edward Richmond.

Mrs. James Howard left Sunday for a ten day business trip to Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Samuelson and family, of Youngsville, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson.

Rev. and Mrs. Carl Perrin spent Sunday afternoon and Monday in Polk, where Rev. Perrin officiated at the funeral of Mrs. Wilkinson.

Frederick and James Howard, Jr., attended the baseball game at Pittsburgh.

Miss Frances Haight and Miss Betty Devore, of Falconer, N. Y., were weekend guests of the former's grandmother, Mrs. Woodside.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fitch, who have been guests of their aunt, Mrs. Frank Dorn, since arriving from Paris, France, left Monday to spend a few days with friends in Canada.

WEEKEND SUGGESTIONS

Two events scheduled in the community Sunday, that should claim the attention of every resident, in addition to attendance at church, are the New Citizens' Day program sponsored by the Warren Lodge of Elks, at the court house in the afternoon at four o'clock, and the annual memorial exercises to be held at the American Legion Home at 6:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Warren County Ministerial Association with the co-operation of patriotic societies.

Efforts have been centered by those in charge of the programs to make them both short and interesting. Those attending are assured that they will find the time well spent by being present on both occasions.

HAVE YOU LOST A ROOM?

Somewhere back along the last 15 years, the average American house has lost a room.

Averaging data from 83 principal cities, the Mortgage Bankers' Association finds that the usual new house being built today has five rooms, whereas 15 years ago it had six.

Smaller families is the answer that instantly springs to mind, but there may be another reason. For one thing, it has become unfashionable to have more house than is actually needed. The "parlor," locked up and unused except for funerals and big parties, is out of favor.

If we can get built the thousands of new homes the country needs, nobody will worry much over the fact that they may be of five rooms instead of six.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

"CHRISTIAN CERTAINITIES"

REV. J. LEON MANEVAL
United Brethren in Christ Church, Chancellors Valley

Heb. 12:27; 13:8—"Yet again, once for all" denotes the removal of the things which can be shaken—created things—in order that the things which cannot be shaken may remain.

"Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today—yes, and forever."

These are uncertain times in which we are living. The clouds of war overhang the skies. The world is in the midst of contention and strife. Turmoil possesses the hearts of many today. We are not certain what a new day might bring forth.

Many of the things which in the past we have relied with certainty, have in these days proved unstable and changing.

1.—NATURE:
One cannot depend on the weather as we used to do. The seasons are changed and seem to be going in a cycle. In summer, it is cold one day and warm the next. Last year, on the last day of June, we had to have a fire in the house.

A little while back I was talking with a friend who last year put out 10 acres of peas which turned brown and he lost $65.00 just in seed alone.

Also last year when the season was the hottest and the land in most places the driest and in need of water and rain, a farm located on the highest hill in Kiantone Township in New York had the fields lying under water.

2.—GEOGRAPHY:
Out West in recent years, man plants seeds, and along comes the wind, the country round about is filled with dust storms, and the fields are scattered all over the U. S. A.

In a recent Scientific Convention, held last year in Colorado, they predicted the worst droughts of 3000 years ahead. They claimed that it would be useless for the Government to pour money into that country. It would be better to move the people out and start them over in some other place.

Scientists tell us that the Atlantic seacoast is constantly receding.

Niagara Falls, which for years has stood as a symbol of permanency, within the last few years, a large section has caved in.

3.—GOVERNMENTS:
Democracy has given way in most countries to Dictators. Armies and Navies are being mobilized to greatest strength possible. Land defenses, like the Maginot Line, which was thought impregnable, fell before the mechanized forces of the enemy. Countries which were flourishing a few years ago, are no longer, but have been swallowed up in the victor's spoils.

THEN WHAT IS CERTAIN? ARE THERE ANY CERTAIN-
TIES IN LIFE? YES, THANK GOD, THERE ARE. HERE ARE SOME WHICH ARE UNSHAKEN. These which we have mentioned before have, in the words of our text, been shaken, so that those things that cannot be shaken may remain. God grant that many might turn and receive of these certainties. They are:

1.—GOD.
God created the world. He is behind, before, above, and beneath all things. He has a plan down through the ages and that plan is to cause men to turn to Him and acknowledge Him as the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

2.—CHRIST.
Our Lord Jesus Christ is the Son of God. He is the Lamb that taketh away the sin of the world. Yes, He died again, and He is going to rule this old world in righteousness and judgment. He lived, died on the Cross, that through the shedding of His blood we might have remission of sins, to every one who believeth and receiveth Him as Savior.

3.—SALVATION.
Those who are in Christ Jesus are "new creatures," "old things are passed away, behold all things are become new." Jesus Christ gives us new men or women, boy or girl, and we are made righteously.
He takes away our old sinful nature and gives us a new nature.
His nature.

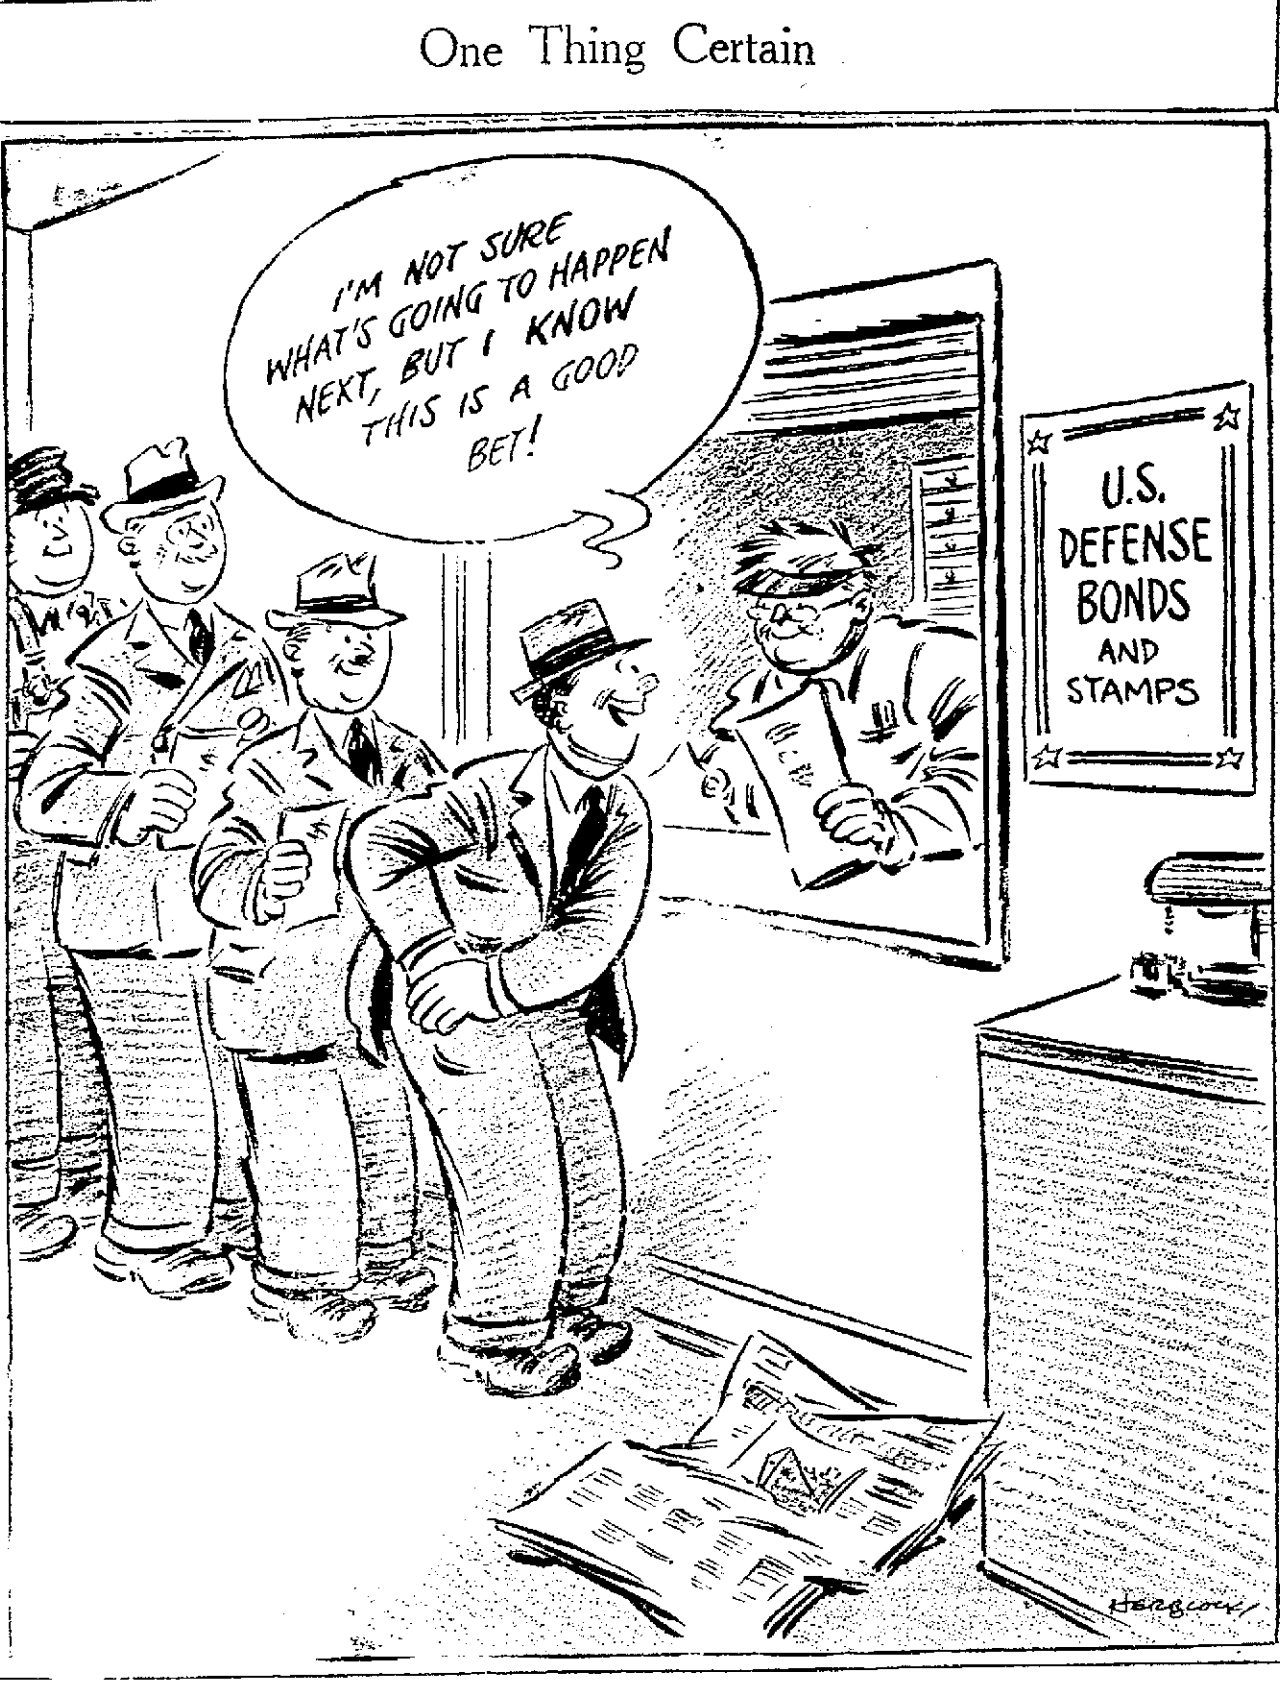

Yes, surely, these are the certainties, the certainties, the certainties to which we can cling and on which we can rely to endure through all time and stress and storm.

• EDSON IN WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington
Correspondent

Washington, May 24.—In eight years, the Civilian Conservation Corps, more familiarly known as CCC, has cost about $2.5 billion. It seems like a lot of money. And as the House Appropriations Committee prepares to make its recommendations as to what the organization should have for the next fiscal year, there are again heard cries that something should be done to it.

President Roosevelt has indicated the outfit might be integrated a little more closely with the defense effort, but what he has in mind not even the CCC heads themselves profess to know.

Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau has indicated this is one of the agencies where cuts might be made to help save that billion.

Rabid militarists yell that the boys should be carrying guns and ardent pacifists scream that the camps are too military already, since these boys are mostly 17-21, under draft age.

Some of the economy-talking congressmen say CCC could be wiped out altogether as it competes with private industry.

Congressmen from the farm states, with conservation and soil erosion problems to think about, counter that CCC work in these fields must not be allowed to diminish.

But for all this hue and cry, CCC goes about its business as usual, has sized up its situation quite well and found it can do some cutting of its own. For this year, CCC has had $280 million, permitting it to operate 1481 camps for a peak of 300,000 enrollees. For next year, it is asking only $270 million, permitting it to operate 1365 camps for a peak of 184,000. Congress, of course, may revise the figures up or down and you can't tell about Congress.

What is happening is that CCC like everything else is feeling the impact of enlistments for the armed services and increased employment in the defense industries. At its all-time high, in August, 1935, CCC had 500,000 men in 2500 camps. Today men are dropping out of the camps or being hired away from them by private industry at such a rate that from now till the end of May CCC is taking in 40,000 more boys, the present strength being only 259,000. Back in 1935, there were from three to five boys waiting for every vacancy. Today they may not find the 40,000. In April, there was room for 58,000, but only 40,000 applied.

The camps that CCC recruits go into now have a more military atmosphere than they did in the early years, for the program has been altered slightly to meet the defense effort requirements. There aren't any guns and there isn't any drill, but there are physical training exercises and there is heavy emphasis on schools. There are 176 full-time schools with an enrollment of over 3000 learning to be cooks and bakers, motor repairmen, radio men, clerks and subalterns who can direct camps themselves. There is no shortage of reserve officers to command camps as yet, but as these officers are called to active service, they will be replaced by CCC-trained leaders.

Most of the carping against CCC has come from corners with an imperfect knowledge of what the camps were doing or have done. A Boston organization, for instance, complained that CCC didn't do anything for business and perhaps (Turn to Page Ten)

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921
The Warren County Good Roads delegation returned from Harrisburg this morning satisfied with their trip. The road from Warren to the New York state line will be built this year as will also the Wrightsville-Lottsville and the Dunham Corners to Chancellors Valley highways.

Since early morning by trolley car, steam car and motor, guests from out of town have been arriving here for the dinner given by local Democrats to those of their political faith throughout the county. Speakers were D. J. Driscoll, former U. S. District Attorney of St. Marys and Hon. E. H. Becklin, former congressman from the 25th district.

The price of Pennsylvania crude oil at 23 cents a barrel this morning, making the prevailing quotation $3.90.

Following the regular service at the First Presbyterian church this evening a reception will be tendered the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond M. Kitchin.

Howard F. Baird left yesterday for Bradford where he is employed on construction work for the Hammond Iron Works.

The county commissioners recently purchased a broad saw for the Route Hospital farm at $100. It has a long and fancy name that might be used by any chorus girl.

The Thespi Club has secured a return engagement with Sleepy Hall and his famous recording orchestra for May 28, at the Woman's Club.

Youngsville is assured of local sport this summer because of the recent organization of a mush ball league with Gurney Ball as president.

Emmons Wade is spending a few days in New York City on business.

In 1931
A special meeting of council was held last evening at which time the ordinance authorizing the paving of Pennsylvania avenue from Hammond street to the Allegheny river bridge at Glade passed third and final reading. It is expected that the work will be commenced in a short time.

Col. F. E. Windsor, marshal of the Memorial Day parade, has named Lt. Donald McComas as his chief of staff. The following have been named aides: Charles Struble, Milton Witz, Ben Kinnear and M. G. Keller.

At the annual meeting of the Warren County Motor Club last night H. B. Bowersox, the secretary appointed the following as tellers for the election of the board of directors: D. W. Ritchie, Charles Blair, J. W. Clark, Mary MacCorrah, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Schuler.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital off the cuff: In a way, this is a laugh on the G-men. But also it is a variation of an old story about the fellows who put gasoline in the fire extinguishers.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is doing a good deal more than you know about. It is checking everything under the sun. It checks defense plants to see what goes on, if anything, in the way of sabotage. The other day, FBI men were investigating a pier and wharf area (I can't tell where) and came on 97 water barrels, filled to the brim. Over each group of them was this sign: "For use only in case of fire."

The pay-off was that five gallons of fuel oil floated on top of each barrel. The conclusion was staggering. The FBI settled down for an all-out investigation. The Saturday Evening Post says the FBI found health officials. These men, it was definitely proved, had come into the case on a hurry-up call—and their orders were to eliminate all mosquitoes in the neighborhood. The first thing was to spread oil—and lots of it—over the open fresh-water barrels. It wasn't until the FBI knocked on their doors that the health men realized they had made a flaming torch out of every fire-prevention water keg in the vicinity.

Laugh-Provoking Law

SOMETIMES American laws make American laughs. One that Washington is chuckling over is the interstate communications statute which makes it prohibitive for any interstate telegraph system to establish a "private wire."

Postal Telegraph recently has been granted permission to put a special leased circuit from Joliet, Ill., to the United States armory ordnance depot near Elwood, Ill. The same company has been issued a permit to connect a St. Louis wire into the offices of the Atlas Powder Co. plant at Weldon Springs, Mo., and Western Union has been authorized to establish a wire from Los Angeles into the Interstate Aircraft and Engineering Corp. offices at El Segundo, Calif.

The chuckle is that in these national defense plants, where secrecy is such that you can't stick your toe into the front door without Four-A-1 credentials, the Federal Communications Commission order reads: "Granted, with the understanding that the service is to be made available to the public."

And don't think for a minute that the message carriers don't abide by this. If any person presents himself to the front door and says simply, "I want to send a telegram," they had better let him in—or else—or else the law has been violated and the "private wire" won't be there any more. That's democracy with a Capital-D.

Knudsen, The Wizard

WHEN recent figures were issued about next year's allotments for new automobiles, they came out this way: "This year, 5,289,972 cars; next year, 4,224,152 cars; reduction, 1,065,820 cars."

It didn't take someone very long to discover that these figures didn't add up. But OPM already had shut up shop for the day. When the error was relayed to homes, junior officials swarmed out like flies. Knudsen's own private secretary even joined the chase for missing figures. Were next year's quotas wrong by several thousands or were the reduction figures wrong?

About midnight (after five hours of combing work-sheets with plant quotas in OPM files) everybody gave up. Knudsen was attending a private party at the Mayflower. He walked out to find a heavy of his shop for the day. They explained their dilemma. Knudsen adjusted his glasses, glanced briefly over the flummoxed work-sheets and said: "Somebody made an error on the adding machines. The correct figures are, 1941 production, 5,289,972; proposed allotments, 4,224,152—reduction, 1,065,820 cars."

It's that kind of thing that makes Washington look so positive that "Bill" Knudsen knows all the answers.

WEEKEND SUGGESTIONS

Two events scheduled in the community Sunday, that should claim the attention of every resident, in addition to attendance at church, are the New Citizens' Day program sponsored by the Warren Lodge of Elks, at the court house in the afternoon at four o'clock, and the annual memorial exercises to be held at the American Legion Home at 6:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Warren County Ministerial Association with the co-operation of patriotic societies.

Efforts have been centered by those in charge of the programs to make them both short and interesting.
Those attending are assured that they will find the time well spent by being present on both occasions.

HAVE YOU LOST A ROOM?

Somewhere back along the last 15 years, the average American house has lost a room.

Averaging data from 83 principal cities, the Mortgage Bankers' Association finds that the usual new house being built today has five rooms, whereas 15 years ago it had six.

Smaller families is the answer that instantly springs to mind, but there may be another reason. For one thing, it has become unfashionable to have more house than is actually needed. The "parlor," looked up and unused except for funerals and big parties, is out of favor.

If we can get built the thousands of new homes the country needs, nobody will worry much over the fact that they may be of five rooms instead of six.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

"CHRISTIAN CERTAINTIES"

REV. J. LEON MANEVAL

United Brethren in Christ Church, Chandler's Valley

Heb. 12:27; 13:8—"Yet again, once for all" denotes the removal of the things which can be shaken created things—in order that the things which cannot be shaken may remain."

"Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today—
yes, and forever."

These are uncertain times in which we are living. The clouds of war overhang the skies. The world is in the midst of contention and strife. Turn of the hearts of many today. We are not certain what a new day might bring forth.

Many of the things which in the past we have relied with certainty, have in these days proved unstable and changing.

1.—NATURE:
One cannot depend on the weather as we used to do. The seasons are changed and seem to be going in a cycle. In summer, it is cold one day and warm the next. Last year, on the last day of June, we had to have a fire in the house.

A little while back I was talking with a friend who last year put out 10 acres of peas which turned brown and he lost $65.00 in seed alone.

Also last year when the season was the hottest and the land in most places the driest and in need of water and rain, a farm located on the highest hill in Kiantone Township in New York had the fields lying under water.

2.—GEOGRAPHY:
Out West in recent years, man plants seeds, and along comes the wind, the country round about is filled with dust storms, and the fields are scattered all over the U. S. A.

In a recent Scientific Convention, held last year in Colorado, they predicted the worst droughts of 2000 years ahead. They claimed that it would be useless for the Government to pour money into that country. It would be better to move the people out and start them over in some other place.

Scientists tell us that the Atlantic seacoast is constantly receding.

Niagara Falls, which for years has stood as a symbol of permanency, within the last few years, a large section has caved in.

3.—GOVERNMENTS:
Democracy has given way in most countries to Dictators. Armies and Navies are being mobilized to greatest strength possible. Land defenses, like the Maginot Line, which was thought impregnable, fell before the mechanized forces of the enemy. Countries which were flourishing a few years ago, are no longer, but have been swallowed up in the victor's spoils.

THEN WHAT IS CERTAIN? ARE THERE ANY CERTAIN-
TIES IN LIFE? YES, THANK GOD, THERE ARE. HERE ARE SOME WHICH ARE UNSHAKEN. These which we have mentioned before have, in the words of our text, been shaken, so that those things that cannot be shaken may remain. God grant that many might turn and receive of those certainties. They are:

1.—GOD.
God created the world. He is behind, before, above, and beneath all things. He has a plan down through the ages, and that plan is to cause men to turn to Him and "acknowledge Him as the Giver of every good and perfect gift."

2.—CHRIST.
Our Lord Jesus Christ is the Son of God, the Lamb that taketh away the sin of the world. Yes, He is coming again, and He is going to rule this old world in righteousness and judgment. He lived, died on the Cross, that through the shedding of His blood we might have remission of sins, to every one that believeth and receiveth Him as Saviour.

3.—SALVATION.
Those who are in Christ Jesus are "new creatures," "old things are passed away, behold all things are become new." Jesus Christ gives any man or woman, boy or girl the power to live righteously.
He takes away our old sinful nature and gives us a new nature.
His nature.

Yea, verily, these are the permanent, unchanging CERTAINTIES to which we can cling and on which we alone can build to endure through all time and stress and storm.

One Thing Certain

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington
Correspondent

Washington, May 24.—In eight years, the Civilian Conservation Corps, more familiarly known as CCC, has cost about $2.8 billion.
It seems like a lot of money. And as the House Appropriations Committee prepares to make its recommendations as to what the organization should have for the next fiscal year, there are again heard cries that something should be done to it.

President Roosevelt has indicated the outfit might be integrated a little more closely with the defense effort, but what he has in mind not even the CCC heads themselves profess to know.

Secretary of Treasury Mergenthau has indicated this is one of the agencies where cuts might be made to help save that billion.

Rapid militarists yell that the boys should be carrying guns and ardent pacifists scream that the camps are too military already, since these boys are mostly 17-21,
under draft age.

Some of the economy-talking congressmen say CCC could be wiped out altogether as it competes with private industry.

Congressmen from the farm states, with conservation and soil erosion problems to think about, counter that CCC work in these fields must not be allowed to diminish.

But for all this hue and cry, CCC goes about its business as usual, has sized up its situation quite well and found it can do some cutting of its own. For this year, CCC has had $280 million, permitting it to operate 1481 camps for a peak of 300,000 enrollees. For next year, it is asking only $270 million, permitting it to operate 1365 camps for a peak of 184,000. Congress, of course, may revise the figures up or down and you can't tell about Congress.

What is happening is that CCC like everything else is feeling the impact of enlistments for the armed services and increased employment in the defense industries.
At its all-time high, in August, 1935, CCC had 500,000 men in 2500 camps. Today men are dropping out of the camps or being hired away from them by private industry at such a rate that from now till the end of May CCC is taking in 40,000 more boys, the present strength being only 259,- 000. Back in 1935 there were from three to five boys waiting for every vacancy. Today they may not find the 40,000. In April, there was room for 58,000, but only 40,000 applied.

The camps that CCC recruits go into now have a more military atmosphere than they did in the early years, for the program has been altered slightly to meet the defense effort requirements. There aren't any guns and there isn't any drill, but there are physical training exercises and there is heavy emphasis on schools. There are 176 full-time schools with an enrollment of over 3000 learning to be cooks and bakers, motor repairmen, radio men, clerks and subalterns who can direct camps themselves. There is no shortage of reserve officers to command camps as yet, but as these officers are called to active service, they will be replaced by CCC-trained leaders.

Most of the carping against CCC has come from corners with an imperfect knowledge of what the camps were doing or have done. A Boston organization, for instance, complained that CCC didn't do anything for business and perhaps

In recent years the United States has produced about 20 per cent of the world's molybdenum and used about 30 per cent of the world's output.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital off the cuff:
In a way, this is a laugh on the G-men. But also it is a variation of an old story about the fellows who put gasoline in the fire extinguishers.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is doing a good deal more than you know about it. It is checking everything under the sun. It checks defense plants to see what goes on, off anything in the way of sabotage. The other day, FBI men were investigating a pier and wharf area (I can't tell where) and came on 97 water barrels, filled to the brim. Over each group of them was this sign:
"For use only in case of fire."
The pay-off was that five gallons of fuel oil floated on top of each barrel. The conclusion was staggering. The FBI settled down for an all-out investigation.

But instead of saboteurs, the FBI found health officials. These men it was definitely proved, had come into the case on a hurry-up call—and their orders were to eliminate all mosquitoes in the neighborhood. The first thing was to spread oil—and lots of it—over the open fresh-water barrels. It murdered the mosquitoes. It wasn't until the FBI knocked over their doors that the health men realized they had made a flaming torch out of every fire-prevention water keg in the vicinity.

Laugh-Providing Law

SOMETIMES American laws make American laughs. One that Washington is chuckling over is the interstate communications statute which makes it prohibitive for any interstate telegraph system to establish a "private wire."

Postal Telegraph recently has been granted permission to put a special leased circuit from Juliet Ill. to the United States army ordnance depot near Elwood, Ill.
The same company has been issued a permit to connect a St.
Louis wire into the offices of the Atlas Powder Co. plant at Weldon Springs, Mo., and Western Union has been authorized to establish a wire from Los Angeles
into the Interstate Aircraft and Engineering Corp. offices at El
Segundo, Calif.

The chuckle is that in these national defense plants, where secrecy is such that you can't stick your toe into the front door without Four-A-1 credentials, the Federal Communications Commission order reads: "Granted, with the understanding that the service is to be made available to the public."

And don't think for a minute that the message carriers don't abide by this. If any person presents himself to the front door and says simply, "I want to send a telegram," they had better let him in—or else—or else the law has been violated and the "private wire" won't be there any more. That's democracy with a Capital-D.

Knudsen, The Wizard

WHEN recent figures were issued about next year's allotments for new automobiles, they came out this way: "This year, 5,289,972 cars; next year, 4,224,152 cars; reduction, 1,065,820 cars."

It didn't take someone very long to discover that these figures didn't add . . . but OPM already had shut up shop for the day.
When the error was relayed to homes, junior officials swarmed out like flies. Knudsen's own private secretary even joined the chase for missing figures. Were next year's quotas wrong by several thousands or were the reduction figures wrong?

About midnight (after five hours of combing work-sheets with plant quotas in OPM files) everybody gave up. Knudsen was attending a private party at the Mayflower. He walked out to find a bevy of his junior executives.
The same company has been issued a permit to connect a St.
Louis wire into the offices of the Atlas Powder Co. plant at Weldon Springs, Mo., and Western Union has been authorized to establish a wire from Los Angeles
into the Interstate Aircraft and Engineering Corp. offices at El
Segundo, Calif.

It's that kind of thing that makes Washington folk so positive that "Bill" Knudsen knows all the answers.

A Piquant Frock For Kiddies

By ANNE ADAMS
Even the "small fry" like clothes that are dainty and feminine—and here's a sweet frock that's really irresistible! Anne Adams has designed Pattern 4720 with many bewitching touches—yet it's so simple to sew. A gay bolero-effect is formed by the curved bodice sections at either side front. The bodice panels smartly point the way to the front gathering of the skirt. Choose cool, perky flared sleeves or little puffs, and add a bow of ribbon or self-fabric at the round neckline. Why not make one frock in a crease-resistant cotton sheer with lace edging, and a second version in a more everyday gingham or chambray? Neat panties are included in this style.

Pattern 4720 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, checked dress, takes 2 yards 35 inch fabric and 2 1/2 yards lace edging; dotted Swiss dress, 2 yards 35 inch fabric, 3 5/8 yards lace edging.

Lady Rebekahs Have Dinner Marking the Kidders' Anniversary

A dinner served at six o'clock last evening in the I. O. O. F. social rooms by the Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge honored the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Kidder, of North Warren, who were married 50 years ago Wednesday.

Crystal candelabra held golden tapers and summer flowers were of the same shade. Continuing the idea in the refreshments, golden numerals centered both the ice cream and white wedding cakes.

Mrs. Kidder was presented a rosebud corsage and a suitable gift was given the couple, together with congratulations and best wishes for many more happy years.

The regular lodge session convened at eight o'clock, when it was decided to cooperate with the Odd Fellows in June memorial services and to contribute to the I. O. O. F. memorial statue to be unveiled at Meadville on July 12 to commemorate the oldest orphanage known in the world.

Voice, Piano Pupils Presenting Recital

Voice and piano students of the Warren Conservatory of Music are to be heard on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock in a special program devoted to American and English compositions. The affair will take place in the concert hall and all interested friends are cordially invited.

Among those to be heard are Jean Colley, Gloria Hausman, Charles Tranter, Evelyn Fredrickson, Earl Campbell, Elizabeth Jaynes and Romaine Meacham, in the works of various composers.

Presenting compositions by Edith Haines Kuester, of the Conservatory faculty, will be Ruth Satterlund, Martha Hultberg, Bonny Johnson, Joyce Ramsdell, Phyllis Briggs, Mrs. Kuester, Gene Ezell, Clayton Sanden and Margaret Drivas.

Martha Benedict To Be Bride on June 11

Mrs. A. F. Dunham gave a pretty appointed six o'clock dinner party last evening at her home, 20 St. Clair street, in honor of her sister, Miss Martha Benedict, school teacher at Grand Valley and a bride of the near future.

Miss Benedict, who is the daughter of T. A. Ward Benedict, of Pleasantville, will become the bride of Roland Averill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Averill, of the same place, on June 11.

Appointments were attractively carried out in pink and green, with candles and spring flowers forming a pretty centerpiece. There were places for 14 guests from Corry, Titusville and Pleasantville.

More than 40 tributaries of the Mississippi are navigable.

STUDENTS OF FOSTER SISTERS IN RECITAL

Pupils of the Misses Betty and Jeanne Foster, presented a very fine guitar and piano recital at the Warren Conservatory of Music Thursday evening. Solos by the following were enjoyed:

Buddy Marner, Jeanne Trummer, Lewis Nichols, Nanette Sulo, Jimmy Johnson and Dicky Svensen, of Warren; Arnold Swanson, Violet Peterson and Ray Stanton, of Jamestown, N. Y. Bob Trummer, guest artist, played an accordion solo, and Sylvia Woodruff and Curtis Lawson played piano solos and duets. A selection well received was played by a swing trio composed of Dorothy Hutley, Hawaiian guitar; Henry Hutley, string bass, and Henry Borgstrom, Spanish guitar, well known Jamestown entertainers. Others participating were Lyle Snively, Bob Wilder and Willis Fitzgerald, of Warren; Eric Lundgren and Genevieve Knott, of Jamestown.

TWILIGHT TEA AT SHEPHERD CHURCH

It is reported today that all tickets have been sold and a capacity house is anticipated by the Lutheran League of the Bethany Lutheran church at Sheffield for its twilight tea next Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Rev. Bertil Edquist, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will give the invocation and benediction for the program, which will be presented by the following, all from Warren: Franklin Burman, Alfred Chadcock, Sam Davis, Reynolds Rydger, Virginia Davis, Mrs. Harry Drivas, Mrs. Carl Lindquist, Miss Romaine Erickson, Mrs. John Benz and Miss Florence Engstrom. One number of particular interest is the piano composition by Dr. LeRoy E. Campbell, to be played by Lillian Swanson, of Youngville.

TRINITY AUXILIARY CONCLUDES SEASON

Trinity Memorial Woman's Auxiliary concluded its current season on Friday afternoon with a study and social meeting at the Woman's Club. Mrs. E. P. Wroth was hostess, with Mrs. S. L. Myer, Mrs. W. F. Henry and Miss Ella Tybout assisting.

Mrs. Earl Stricker gave a paper on "China's Future" and Rev. E. P. Wroth, rector, spoke on "The Call of China". Mrs. A. H. Wickstrom, president and one of the delegates to the Erie Diocese Auxiliary convention in Oil City recently, reported on happenings there.

THESPI SPRING PARTY SUCCESSFUL

Between 35 and 40 couples gathered in the Woman's Club auditorium last evening to attend the annual spring dance of the Thespi Club. Music was provided by Bill Merchant and his six-piece band from Jamestown, with the drummer adding enjoyable novelty numbers.

Chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sires, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Davis, and in charge of arrangements were John Baldwin, Dick Hause and Don Brown.

Methodist Society Luncheon- Meeting

The First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting Thursday, enjoying a tureen luncheon at one o'clock in Founders Hall, served by Mrs. Harold Kelsey, Mrs. John Rossman, Mrs. Gilbert Loree, Mrs. Marshall Johnson, Mrs. H. W. Correll, Mrs. N. D. Patterson. The invocation was given by Mrs. J. O. Messerly.

The business session was held in Dunham parlors, with Mrs. T. C. Colley in charge in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. S. Briggs. Mrs. George Muir, in charge of devotions, gave a splendid talk on faith and its place in the world today. She stressed the necessity of Christians retaining their belief in the individual as opposed to the belief rampant in some countries today concerning the importance of the state. To conclude, the old, familiar hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung by the group.

Mrs. R. W. Norris, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. R. W. Steber, who is general chairman of sewing activities for the Warren County Chapter Red Cross. Since Methodist women have had a sewing circle operating for some weeks for this project, Mrs. Steber impressed upon them the importance of meeting the present quota and increasing the output to meet the new, nearly-trebled quota. She also displayed a number of objects already made and others to be made.

Triple-duty slack suit—Helen Parrish shows how this faded blue denim looks when you wear the slacks, matching jacket and red bandana print blouse. Shorts may be substituted.

Tailored Outfits and Triple-duty Play Clothes Suit Stars' Tastes

The bandana blouse in a smart red and white print is right with this separate skirt of faded blue denim as well as with slacks and shorts. The shoes are of washable material, with thick cork soles. Helen Parrish, like most of the Hollywood stars, likes mix-and-match sports outfits. The ideal ensemble of this type includes shorts, a sports shirt, a matching jacket and a sweater and at least two blouses which may be worn with the other pieces. For cool mountain resorts, the four main pieces may be of soft, washable flannel. The blouses of cotton, of course. For warmer vacation spots, cotton and spun rayon cotton-like surface are ideal fabrics.

The suit is a necessity for travelers, and ideal for California. Modeled by Helen Parrish, it is made of crush-resistant material in Laguna blue and features a high, little-boy collar and a slim skirt.

NEW 'PERSONAL' CREDIT SYSTEM IS NATIONWIDE

"The new nationwide cash credit cards for next year, now being issued by 'Personal' offices all over the country, are proving popular with folks in Warren and Warren county," reports R. L. Kimberland, manager of the Personal Finance Company's office here.

"Now that our cash credit card service has been extended and is available to non-customers as well as customers," said Mr. Kimberland, "the demand is greater than ever before. These handy cash credit cards are released about this time each year to meet the demand of summer vacationists and travelers for a practical, safe way to carry a source of extra funds."

"It is a fairly common experience to run short of cash while on a trip," continued Mr. Kimberland, "so people welcome this service exclusively with 'Personal'—which establishes their credit in any one of our more than 400 offices, coast-to-coast. This way folks can get spot cash almost anywhere, in case of an emergency."

Under their new plan, 'Personal' issues their cash credit card to all who qualify—whether customers or not. Any employed person, single or married, of good credit standing in the community, can secure the card by making application at Mr. Kimberland's office.

I've always said that there wasn't much fun kibitzing the experts. On about 19 out of 20 hands they do the correct thing, so that you just don't think there is anything to the hand. But every once in a while they do give you a hand with plenty of action.

Oswald Jacoby held the South hand and Edward Hymes, Jr., held the North hand. The first round of bidding was perfectly normal. When Jacoby bid two diamonds, and West passed, Hymes thought his hand was too good to bid three clubs and still not strong enough to bid four clubs. He temporized with a bid of two spades.

Jacoby saw the possibility of a slam and therefore bid his opponent's suit. The information about the hearts now allowed Hymes to bid three no trump which is the spot where most contestants played the hand. Jacoby decided the hand would be safer in spades, not realizing th

Crystal candelabra held golden tapers and summer flowers were of the same shade. Continuing the idea in the refreshments, golden numerals centered both the ice cream and white wedding cakes.

Mrs. Kiddier was presented a rosebud corsage and a suitable gift was given the couple together with congratulations and best wishes for many more happy years.

The regular lodge session convened at eight o'clock, when it was decided to cooperate with the Odd Fellows in June memorial services and to contribute to the I. O. O. F. memorial statue to be unveiled at Meadville on July 12 to commemorate the oldest orphanage known in the world.

Voice, Piano Pupils Presenting Recital

Voice and piano students of the Warren Conservatory of Music are to be heard on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock in a special program devoted to American and English compositions. The affair will take place in the concert hall and all interested friends are cordially invited.

Among those to be heard are Jean Colley, Gloria Hausman, Charles Tranter, Evelyn Fredrickson, Earl Campbell, Elizabeth Jaynes and Romaine Macnam, in the works of various composers.

Presenting compositions by Edith Haines Kuester, of the Conservatory faculty, will be Ruth Satterlund, Martha Hultberg, Bonny Johnson, Joyce Ramsdell, Phyllis Briggs, Mrs. Kuester, Gene Ezell, Clayton Sanden and Margaret Drivas.

Martha Benedict To Be Bride on June 11

Mrs. A. F. Dunham gave a pretty appointed six o'clock dinner party last evening at her home, 20 St. Clair street, in honor of her sister, Miss Martha Benedict, school teacher at Grand Valley and a bride of the near future.

Miss Benedict, who is the daughter of Mrs. Ward Benedict, of Pleasantville, will become the bride of Roland Averill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Averill, of the same place, on June 11.

Appointments were attractively carried out in pink and green, with candles and spring flowers forming a pretty centerpiece. There were places for 14 guests from Corry, Titusville and Pleasantville.

More than 40 tributaries of the Mississippi are navigable.

STUDENTS OF FOSTER SISTERS IN RECITAL
Pupils of the Misses Betty and Jeanne Foster, presented a very fine guitar and piano recital at the Warren Conservatory of Music Thursday evening. Solos by the following were enjoyed:

Buddy Marrer, Jeanie Trummer, Lewis Nichols, Nanette Sulo, Jimmy Johnson and Dicky Svensen, of Warren; Arnold Swanson, Violet Peterson and Ray Stanton, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Bob Trummer, guest artist, played an accordion solo, and Sylvia Woodruff and Curtis Lawson played piano solos and duets. A selection well received was played by a swing trio composed of Dorothy Hutley, Hawaiian guitar; Henry Hutley, string bass, and Henry Borgstrom, Spanish guitar, well known Jamestown entertainers. Others participating were Lyle Snavey, Bob Wilder and Willis Fitzgerald, of Warren; Eric Lundgren and Genevieve Knott, of Jamestown.

TWILIGHT TEA AT SHEPHERD CHURCH

It is reported today that all tickets have been sold and a capacity house is anticipated by the Luther League of the Bethany Lutheran church at Sheffield for its twilight tea next Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Rev. Bertil Edquist, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will give the invocation and benediction for the program, which will be presented by the following, all from Warren: Franklin Burman, Alfred Chaddock, Sam Davis, Reynolds Rydgren, Virginia Davis, Mrs. Harry Drivas, Mrs. Carl Lindquist, Miss Romaine Erickson, Mrs. John Benz and Miss Florence Engstrom. One number of particular interest is the piano composition by Dr. LeRoy E. Campbell, to be played by Lillian Swanson, of Youngville.

TRINITY AUXILIARY CONCLUDES SEASON

Trinity Memorial Woman's Auxiliary concluded its current season on Friday afternoon with a study and social meeting at the Woman's Club. Mrs. E. P. Wroth was hostess, with Mrs. S. L. Myer, Mrs. W. F. Henry and Miss Ella Tybout assisting.

Mrs. Earl Stricker gave a paper on "China's Future" and Rev. E. P. Wroth, rector, spoke on "The Call of China." Mrs. A. H. Wickstrom, president and one of the delegates to the Erie Diocese Auxiliary convention in Oil City recently, reported on happenings there.

THESPI SPRING PARTY SUCCESSFUL

Between 35 and 40 couples gathered in the Woman's Club auditorium last evening to attend the annual spring dance of the Thespi Club. Music was provided by Bill Merchant and his six-piece band from Jamestown, with the drummer adding enjoyable novelty numbers.

Chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sires, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Davis, and in charge of arrangements were John Baldwin, Dick Hause and Don Brown.

Methodist Society Luncheon - Meeting

The First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting Thursday, enjoying a tureen luncheon at one o'clock in Founders Hall, served by Mrs. Harold Kelsey, Mrs. John Rossman, Mrs. Gilbert Loree, Mrs. Marshall Johnson, Mrs. H. W. Correll, Mrs. N. D. Paterson. The invocation was given by Mrs. J. O. Messerly.

The business session was held in Dunham parlors, with Mrs. T. C. Colley in charge in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. S. Briggs. Mrs. George Muir, in charge of devotions, gave a splendid talk on faith and its place in the world today. She stressed the necessity of Christians retaining their belief in the individual as opposed to the belief rampant in some countries today concerning the importance of the state. To conclude, the old, familiar hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung by the group.

Mrs. R. W. Norris, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. R. W. Steber, who is general chairman of sewing activities for the Warren County Chapter Red Cross. Since Methodist women have had a sewing circle operating for some weeks for this project, Mrs. Steber impressed upon them the importance of meeting the present quota and increasing the output to meet the new, nearly-trebled quota. She also displayed a number of objects already made and others to be made.

Triple-duty slacks suit—Helen Parrish shows how this faded blue denim looks when you wear the slacks, matching jacket and red bandana print blouse. Shorts may be substituted.

Hollywood Picks Vacation Wardrobe

Tailored Outfits and Triple-duty Play Clothes Suit Stars' Tastes

The bandana blouse and white print is right with this separate skirt of faded blue denim as well as with slacks and shorts. The shoes are of washable material, with thick cork soles. Helen Parrish, like most of the Hollywood stars, likes mix-and-match sports outfits. The ideal ensemble of this type includes shorts, a sports skirt, slacks, a matching jacket and a sweater and at least two blouses which may be worn with the other pieces. For cool mountain resorts, the four main pieces may be washable flannel, the blouses of cotton, of course. For warmer vacation spots, cotton and spun rayon with a cotton-like surface are ideal fabrics.

The suit is a necessity for travelers, and ideal for California. Modeled by Helen Parrish, it is made of crush-resistant material in Laguna blue and features a high, little-boy collar and a slim skirt.

I've always said that there wasn't much fun kibitzing the experts. On about 19 out of 20 hands they do the correct thing, so that you just don't think there is anything to the hand. But every once in a while they do give you a hand with plenty of action.

Oswald Jacoby held the South hand and Edward Hymes, Jr., held the North hand. The first round of bidding was perfectly normal. When Jacoby bid two diamonds, Hymes covered with two spades. Hymes thought his hand was too good to bid three clubs and still not strong enough to bid four clubs. He temporized with a bid of two spades. Jacoby saw the possibility of a slam and therefore bid his opponent's suit. The information about the hearts now allowed Hymes to bid three no trump, which is the spot where most contestants played the hand. Jacoby decided the hand would be safer in spades, not realizing that

"The new nationwide cash credit cards for next year, now being issued by 'Personal' offices all over the country, are proving popular with folks in Warren and Warren county," reports R. L. Kimberland, manager of the Personal Finance Company's office here.

"Now that our cash credit card service has been extended and is available to non-customers as well as customers," said Mr. Kimberland, "the demand is greater than ever before. These handy cash credit cards are released about this time each year to meet the demand of summer vacationists and travelers for a practical, safe way to carry a source of extra funds."

"It is a fairly common experience to run short of cash while on a trip," continued Mr. Kimberland, "so people welcome this service—exclusive with Personal—which establishes their credit in any one of our more than 400 offices, coast-to-coast. This way folks can get spot cash almost anywhere, in case of an emergency."

Under their new plan, 'Personal' issues their cash credit card to all who qualify—whether customers or not. Any employed person, single or married, of good credit standing in the community, can secure the card by making application at Mr. Kimberland's office.

OBITUARY

JAMES M. LYTLE

Titusville Herald: Services in memory of James M. Lytle were conducted at 2 p. m. yesterday at the Paul B. Kerr funeral home, with Rev. Perry J. Cook of the Church of Christ officiating. The body was taken overland to Warren for interment beside the wife in Oakland cemetery with the following as pallbearers: John and William Fleming, Clair Caldwell and John Pangborn.

Mr. Lytle died in Skiatook, Okla., and the body was brought to Titusville Thursday afternoon, accompanied by the daughter, Mrs. William Forman, of New Salem and three brothers, M. J. Lytle of Tulsa, D. A. and G. A. Lytle of Kansas.

It has been estimated that about 65,000 square miles of Alaskan territory could be developed for farming.

his partner held only three of the suit.

The opening heart lead was won in dummy with the king, and then deuce of spades was covered by the queen and North won the trick with the ace. He led back the seven of spades, played low from dummy, and West won the trick with his king.

If West, at this point, had led a diamond, or the queen of hearts he could have defeated the contract, but he did not. He cashed the ace of clubs and then led another club. Now Hymes finessed East's last spade, the ten-pipped diamond, making a grand slam for a top score on the board.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, May 20 — A very inspiring service was presented at the Moriah Lutheran church Sunday evening when the Saturday evening prayer group from Jamestown, N. Y., were present. There was a group of twenty-five young boys and girls who sang in the choir. The leader of this group was Ted Johnson, who gave a sermon.

The leader of the choir was Jackie Segard.

Those belonging to the group, all from Jamestown, N. Y., were as follows: Marian Jacobson, Donna Fowler, Clarence Nelson, Janice Anderson, Connie Johnson, Phyllis Carlson, Lennie Carlson, Phyllis M. # Baer's Manager Protests And Claims Title For Buddy

Charges Louis With Fouling Challenger; Moguls Will Decide

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Washington, May 24.—(AP)—Unwilling to be labeled the 17th victim of Joe Louis since the Alabama Negro became heavyweight champion, Buddy Baer today put a claim in against the Bomber's title on the grounds he had been fouled by the blow that ended their fight.

Through his manager, Ancil Hoffman, the towering Buddy had a date (at noon, EST) to appear before the District of Columbia Boxing Commission to argue that he should be the champion instead of the loser on a disqualification in the sixth round, and thus was illegal. The timekeeper, Major Ernest H. Brown, told me that.

"Arthur Donovan was the referee and should have realized that. You know, we had to accept Donovan (who was brought from New York) as the referee. Otherwise, we wouldn't have been given the shot at Joe."

An unusual angle of the appeal to the District Commission was that whatever action this body might take probably will be approved in 26 other states, since the local group is a member of the National Boxing Association, which controls the sport in that large an area.

The towering Buddy made a stout showing. He knocked Louis smack through the ropes in the opening round, bringing a welled, hesitant cheers from the stands, and he generally comforted himself with honor until the moment when his manager, Ancil Hoffman, took advantage of a thin technicality to end the fight in confusion.

Hoffman claimed that Louis clouted Buddy after the bell rang ending the sixth round. He was correct in this by the matter of a half second, perhaps, but it wasn't important. Baer was badly beaten and ready to flop, anyway.

Referee Arthur Donovan didn't hesitate or argue. He gave it to Louis and in the dressing room later he was inclined to be pugnacious when questioned about his decision.

"I'm not sure Louis hit him after the bell," he snapped. "It was close, but, anyway, Baer probably wouldn't have gone long in the next round. He was in bad shape and I would have been watching to stop it."

The sixth round—the one that caused all the argument—saw Baer knocked to the canvas twice. First the dusky champion dropped him for a count of six with a terrific right to the jaw. Baer staggered up to run into another wham—and went down again, sprawled all over the place.

Donovan this time just had reached the count of nine when Buddy heaved himself up off the floor. He was helpless, his arms hanging limply, and Louis charged in for the kill. Louis had the final punch already started when the bell sounded dimly through the uproar.

The blow caught Baer flush on the jaw and down he went again. Baer's seconds swarmed out and carried him to his corner. At the end of 60 seconds the long, tall Californian had revived and could have tottered forth to catch more punishment.

It scarcely was Baer's fault that the bout had to end in such crazy fashion. Buddy, taking advantage of his enormous height and reach, lashed out every time they came together. He put a bruise on Louis' chin in the very first round and landed a little cut under the champion's left eye in the fifth. Louis had to put everything he had behind his punches to cut Buddy down in the sixth.

The first round, in fact, belonged to the angular Baer by a wide margin, and the fourth and fifth could have been given to him, too. (Turn to Page Ten)

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
New York, May 24.—Manager Doc Prothro has put his foot down on Hugh Mulcahy's plan to pitch a Sunday game or two for the Phils this summer when they're in Boston. "Might ruin his arm," says the doctor. "He'd want to bear down and wouldn't be in proper shape." Although Wyoming U. didn't win a football game last year, Butany Oakes, the new coach, is promising a championship team in three more years. Applicants for unexpired jobs in the National Semi-Pro League not only must send along a certificate that their eyesight is O. K., but also an affidavit that they have no prison records. George Halas has begun his campaign to land Tom Harmon for the Chicago Bears with a letter so sugary you could almost eat it.

Business Note
Headline—"Top Light-Heavyweights Draw Only $12,000." The Lesnevich - Young Christofani was deemed small beer by Mike the Jake and made his China molars ache.

The army will station Maj. Bob Neyland at Norfolk and those Virginia football coaches had better start catching their high school prospects and tying 'em up. Pat Mullin, Detroit's new outfielder, is a liquor tester in a Pennsylvania distillery during the off season. We said tester, not taster. In 29 games played through last Tuesday, White Sox pitchers went the route in 21 of them. Might keep an eye on Booker Beckwith, hard-hitting 170-pounder from Gary, Ind., who has won 15 in a row, 10 by knockouts. If and when Jerry Priddy gets back into the Yankee line-up, it probably will be at third base. Anyway, that's where he's working out these hot afternoons.

Strike Three
A certain big-league ballplayer spent most of the other afternoon trying to flirt with a blonde in one of the third-base boxes. That night he saw her sitting two tables away from him in a Broadway restaurant. When her escort excused himself for a moment, the player walked over and said "how about ditching that guy and meeting me later?" She gave him a cold stare and squeaked: "At any rate you're consistent. You didn't get to first base at the ball park all afternoon, either."

Wait and see if there aren't 40 nights of trilling races on Goshen's historic track next summer. Pete Reiser was the only Dodger to hit at a .300 clip on the disastrous Western trip. Broadway chorines have gone golf crazy, and one of them—Bunny Waters—is hitting the low 80's almost daily.

Cincinnati Reds On Way Upward; Defeat Chicago Cubs 8-4

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The World Champion Cincinnati Reds have given a tremendous advantage to their pennant rivals in the National League, but with four-fifths of the season still ahead, it is too early to count them out.

They apparently are on the up-grade after striking bottom last week with a six-game losing streak.

Since then they have won five out of six contests and yesterday conquered the Chicago Cubs, 8-4, with a proper show of authority. Johnny Vander Meer and Elmer Riddle combined to pitch four-hit ball.

The victory left the Reds a half game out of the first division and 8½ games behind the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cards clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1, in the first night tilt of the year in St. Louis to take a two-game margin over the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mori Cooper pitched five-hit ball, fanned nine and singled in one of the Redbirds' runs. It was the fifth triumph against one defeat for the young right-hander. Max Butcher hurled tight ball for Pittsburgh, but received little help from his mates.

The Cleveland Indians, leaders in the American League, also opened their night-game schedule by trouncing 4,000 fans to a 4-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

The encounter was decided in the first inning, when Ken Keltner tripped with the bases loaded and Ray Mack singled him home. Al Milnar and Dennis Galehouse each gave five hits.

The second place Chicago White Sox split a double-header with the Tigers at Detroit. Old Ted Lyons pitched Chicago to a 7-1 victory in the opener and Paul Dizzi Trout retaliated with a 9-0 shutout on seven-hit hurling.

The New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox wound up in a 9-9 tie when darkness and a dust storm stopped play at the end of nine innings. With Charley Keller getting a triple, two doubles and two walks, and Tom Henrich hitting a two-run homer, the Yankees moved into the ninth inning leading 9-7.

But Oscar Judd, a pitcher who was called in as a pinch hitter, delivered a two-run single to knot the score. Nine hurriers gave up 23 hits and 18 bases on balls in the 3-hour and 50-minute struggle.

The Athletics-Washington night game was rained out.

KNOX SURE HE CAN BEAT CONN IN MONDAY GO

Pittsburgh, May 24.—(AP)—Buddy Knox, Dayton, O., heavyweight, will be out to snare Billy Conn in their 15-round here Monday night—but after that he'll be among the rooters picking Conn for a victory over Champion Joe Louis on June 18.

As in other athletic competition, the boxing game is like that. While a couple of fighters actually try to win each other in the ring, on the outside they may be just as friendly as guests at a ladies' aid tea.

"If (Knox understood the if) Conn meets Louis after Monday, I think he has an excellent chance of winning," the 24-year-old Ohio boy said while winding up his training here. "I've seen Joe fight four or five times, and believe his style is made to order for a fast-moving jabber like Conn."

Knox was perturbed about suggestions that the Monday fight would be a set-up for Conn.

"If they think I'm going in there with the idea of losing to Conn," he said, "they have another thought coming. I'm going to win if I can. It's the biggest chance I've had since I started fighting, and I'm not going to miff it."

"The soon Conn fight before, and know what he can do. I'm sure I can beat him, and maybe capture the shot at Louis next month. I'm so confident of winning, that my wife is coming in from Dayton and she has never seen me in a losing fight yet."

Meanwhile Dewey Fregatta, his manager, was having a little laugh all by himself.

"Johnny Ray (Conn's manager) has never seen Knox fight," he explained. "If he had, you can bet anything that he would have hesitated about taking Buddy as Conn's final test before meeting Louis."

The astute Ray, at the time, was scheming for the future. He was in Washington watching Louis against Buddy Baer.

Last Night's Bouts

By the Associated Press
Washington—Joe Louis, 20½, Detroit, world heavyweight champion, stopped Buddy Baer, 23½, California (Baer disqualified for refusal to come out for seventh round).
New York—Frank Martin (Chief Crazy Horse 3rd), 135, Pasadena, Calif., outpointed Joey Silva, 133, Mexico City (8).
Hollywood—Jimmy Casino, 163, Los Angeles, stopped Freddie Steele, 160, Tacoma (5).

With the "Y" putting finishing touches on two new courts beside the local association building, one official sized layout and another just a little narrow, but the official length, it looks as though tennis may stage at least a partial comeback in Warren this summer. As late as 1936, tennis was still holding its share of the spotlight locally, but from then on to last summer it did a fade-out, until now it needs a shot in the arm to get its circulation back to normal again. And those new courts look like just the thing to do it. For as far as tennis players go, there are just as many in the community today as there were in 1935, when fifty-five entries were received for the county tourney, or in '36, when sixty-four went into the first round. When any sport dies out, there has to be a reason for it. And the main reason for the failure of tennis has been because of no courts, or those that there were being wound up in too much red tape to be worth even an effort to try to play on. But now Warren has two courts which will not obligate the public too greatly and which will, therefore, start interest percolating again. And then, too, the Y. M. C. A. courts probably will be available for at least part of a county tournament, possibly all of it.

We're not trying to set up a program for the local association and direct them as to how they should use those new courts. That's not it at all. But we feel certain that if interest could be developed in the county this summer for more tennis, what with very little baseball to keep sports fans content, the Y. M. C. A. would be more than willing to cooperate with a tennis committee. And it may seem early to start talking or thinking about tennis, and planning a county tournament, but we've lived in this town just long enough to realize that if you want a thing done or promoted in summer, you start in the spring to lay the foundation for it. So let's hear some comment on the above paragraphs from you tennis artists who want something like they tell about from days gone by, and let's see what we can do about it.

Quickies: . . . This corner takes Billy Conn Monday night in about eight rounds. . . . Knox is good for that long. . . . Jimmy Dykes' eye for waiver list prizes has given the Chicago White Sox a surprising ball club. . . . and has made them a real threat in the current American League flag race. . . . Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan, has been reported gravely ill. . . . He suffered a heart attack. . . . Johnny Grodzicki, rookie who was up with the Cards this spring, is wondering what a pitcher has to do to make good in the majors. . . . With thirteen of the sixteen clubs whining for good pitchers, he was sent back to the minors after giving a fine exhibition at the start of the season for the Redbirds. . . . And it does seem queer they send so many young players back without a fair chance. . . . On tennis courts again: If the "Y" could put two courts in this spring, can't the community do the same? . . . Harry Stidham, Marquette University's football coach, helped a number of his grid stars to get work on defense materials this summer, and now has a worry on his hands. . . . Many of the jobs are so good he's afraid the kids won't want to leave them next fall.

The Cleveland Indians, leaders in the American League, also opened their night-game schedule by treating 40,000 fans to a 4-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

The encounter was decided in the first inning, when Ken Keltner tripled with the bases loaded and Ray Mack singled him home. Al Milnar and Dennis Galehouse each gave five hits.

The second place Chicago White Sox split a double-header with the Tigers at Detroit. Old Ted Lyons pitched Chicago to a 7-1 victory in the opener and Paul (Dizzy) Trout retaliated with a 9-0 shutout on seven-hit hurling.

The New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox wound up in a 9-9 tie when darkness and a dust storm stopped play at the end of nine innings. With Charley Keller getting a triple, two doubles and two walks, and Tom Henrich hitting a two-run homer, the Yanks moved into the ninth inning leading 9-7. But Oscar Judd, a pitcher who was called in as a pinch hitter, delivered a two-run single to knot the score.

Nine hurlers gave up 23 hits and 19 bases on balls in the 3-hour and 50-minute struggle.

The Athletics-Washington night game was rained out.

Washington—Joe Louis, 20½, Detroit, world heavyweight champion, stopped Buddy Baer.

The astute Ray, at the time, was scheming for the future. He was in Washington watching Louis against Buddy Baer.

237½, California (Baer disqualified for refusal to come out for seventh round.)

New York—Frank Martin (Chief Crazy Horse 3rd) 135, Pasadena, Calif., outpointed Joey Silva, 133, Mexico City (8).
Hollywood—Jimmy Casino, 151, Los Angeles, stopped Freddie Steele, 160, Taconia (5).

SPORT SCATTERINGS

With the "Y" putting finishing touches on two new courts beside the local association building, one official sized layout and another just a little narrow, but the official length, it looks as though tennis may stage at least a partial comeback in Warren this summer. As late as 1936, tennis was still holding its share of the spotlight locally, but from then on to last summer it did a fade-out, until now it needs a shot in the arm to get its circulation back to normal again. And those new courts look like just the thing to do it. For as far as tennis players go, there are just as many in the community today as there were in 1935, when fifty-five entries were received for the county tourney, or in '36, when sixty-four went into the first round. When any sport dies out, there has to be a reason for it. And the main reason for the failure of tennis has been because of no courts, or those that there were being wound up in too much red tape to be worth even an effort to try to play on. But now Warren has two courts which will not obligate the public too greatly and which will, therefore, start interest percolating again. And then, too, the Y. M. C. A. courts probably will be available for at least part of a county tournament, possibly all of it.

We're not trying to set up a program for the local association and direct them as to how they should use those new courts. That's not it at all. But we feel certain that if interest could be developed in the county this summer for more tennis, what with very little baseball to keep sports fans content, the Y. M. C. A. would be more than willing to cooperate with a tennis committee. And it may seem early to start talking or thinking about tennis, and planning a county tournament, but we've lived in this town just long enough to realize that if you want a thing done or promoted in summer, you start in the spring to lay the foundation for it. So let's hear some comment on the above paragraphs from you tennis artists who want something like they tell about from days gone by, and let's see what we can do about it.

Quickest.... This corner takes Billy Conn Monday night in about eight rounds.... Knox is good for that long.... Jimmy Dykes' eye for waiver list prizes has given the Chicago White Sox a surprising ball club.... and has made them a real threat in the current American League flag race.... Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan, has been reported gravely ill.... He suffered a heart attack.... Johnny Grodzicki, rookie who was up with the Cards this spring, is wondering what a pitcher has to do to make good in the majors.... With thirteen of the sixteen clubs winning for good pitchers, he was sent back to the minors after giving a fine exhibition at the start of the season for the Redbirds.... And it does seem queer they send so many young players back without a fair chance.... On tennis courts again: If the "Y" could put two courts in this spring, can't the community do the same?... Harry Stidham, Marquette University's football coach, helped a number of his grad stars to get work on defense materials this summer, and now has a worry on his hands.... Many of the jobs are so good he's afraid the kids won't want to leave them next fall.

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK — The first of the mackerel have shown up in local waters, and I can hear signs from 100,000 fishermen in the metropolitan area being waited gently and gratefully on the coastal breezes. When the mackerel are running New York isn't quite its natural self. There is something in the behavior of the "mottle back" that excites most salt-water fishermen. As a result, captains of fishing sloops up and down the coast are ready for all comers.

The North Star, Pioneer II, Claire, Obay, Fido, Tambo II, Usona, Klondyke, Moccasin are manned with crew, tackle and bait. You don't have to have a rod, hook, line, sinker, or anything to enjoy fishing around here. The captain of the sloop provides all — for a small fee.

The Whiffy II has just inaugurated its fishing season. If you ride the Whiffy II, you will go after cod and black fish. She leaves every day and Sunday from pier 7. Sheephead Bay. A couple of bucks pays for everything, and you keep all the fish you catch.

CAPTAIN HARRY BERLIN
of the Claire, an old hand at piloting fishermen to the fishing grounds, tells me two of his guests mopped up with a catch of more than 400 flounders in a single day. They were running up to two thousand. It is nice pan size. Pollock also are appearing in satisfactory numbers off the Point — the Point being Montauk point.

First Church of Christ, Scientist
312 Market Street
Sunday service 10:45 a. m. Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock. "Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 25. Among Bible citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon is the following: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law" (Galatians 5:16-18). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When what we erroneously term the five physical senses are misdirected, they are simply the manifested beliefs of mortal mind, which affirm that life, substance, and intelligence are material, instead of spiritual. These false beliefs and their products constitute the flesh, and the flesh wars against Spirit" (p. 274).

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—The first of the mackerel have shown up in local waters, and I can hear signs from 100,000 fishermen in the metropolitan area being waited gently and gratefully on the coastal breezes. When the mackerel are running New York isn't quite its natural self. There is something to the behavior of the "mottle backs" that excites my salt-and-fishermen. As a result, captains of fishing sloops up and down the coast are ready for all comers.

The North Star, Pioneer II, Claire, Obay, Fidus, Tambo II, Usoma, Klondyke, Moccasin are manned with crew, tackle and bait. You don't have to have a rod, hook, line, sinker, or anything to enjoy fishing around here. The captain of the sloop provides all—for a small fee.

The Whittby II has just inaugurated its season. If you ride the Whittby II, you will go after cod and black fish. She leaves every day and Sunday from pier 7, Sheepshead Bay. A couple of bucks pays for everything, and you keep all the fish you catch.

CAPTAIN HARRY BERLIN of the Claire, an old hand at piloting fishermen to the fishing grounds, tells me two of his guests mopped up with a catch of more than 400 pounders in a single day. They were running up to two pounds, which is nice pan size. More are appearing, and satisfying numbers. The Point—the Point being Montauk point.

Holidays and Sundays are great fishing days in this coastal region. The sloops accommodate between 50 and 200 fishermen. You cast off generally at dawn. In a couple of hours you reach the fishing grounds. From then on through the day the sails are lined with fishermen, elbow to elbow. There is hilarity and also a generous amount of seasickness. When the weather is rough the "casualties" sometimes run as high as 50 per cent. But it's a great pastime and a great summer coastwise industry—if you like that kind of fishing and the smell of salt water.

Ex-Senator is Mentioned in Jurist's Case

Pepper and Davis agreed, he said to present a statement. "We told him (Pepper)," Willauer continued that "we were interested in the Stokely matter."

Another witness, William C. Kramer, Clerk of the U. S. district court at Camden, N. J., read from records he brought with him that Fox owed income taxes totaling several million dollars in 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1932. It was not developed whether these taxes had been paid.

The dean of the federal judiciary insists that decisions written by accused Judge J. Warren Davis in the William Fox bankruptcy cases were "good law."

He is retired Judge Joseph Bufington, 85, Judge Davis associate on the Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in 1939 during the Fox litigation.

The aged jurist testified as a government witness yesterday in Judge Davis' trial on criminal charges. Davis, also retired, is accused jointly with former Bankruptcy Referee Morgan S. Kaufman with conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States.

Amusements

"ROAD TO ZANZIBAR"

At The Liberty Theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday
"Road to Zanzibar," Paramount's new comedy with music, starring Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour, opens Sunday, Monday, Tuesday at the Liberty Theatre.

The new film is even funnier than the first picture in which Bing, Bob and Dorothy starred. "Road to Zanzibar," which is saying quite a good deal, The laughs in "Road to Zanzibar" come even more frequently, they're even sharper, the situations even more hilarious and the music just a little more contagious. Incidentally, "Road to Zanzibar" not only reunites the stars of "Road to Singapore" but the director and writers as well. The director is Victor Schertzinger, and the writers, Frank Butler and Don Hartman.

Bing and Bob in this one are a couple of carnival men in Africa who are trying to raise enough money to get back home. When they finally do, it is the result of the brain-work of Bing and the hardy physique of Bob, whose job in the act is to be frozen alive, electrocuted, shot out of a cannon and otherwise buffeted about.

Pontiac Workers May Quit

S. Land, Maritime Commission chairman, told a Senate investigating committee yesterday that he believed the government would be justified in using "United States forces" to open the shipyard picket lines.

In the capital also, the Defense Mediation Board called for closed-door discussions today designed to call a halt to the contract dispute between the CIO United Mine Workers and the soft coal operators. Coal mining operations have been resumed under a temporary agreement. The major dispute now centers around the union's demand that southern operators jump wages to $7 a day. The southern rate last year was $5.60 and this was raised to $6.60 under a temporary agreement.

Northern operators agreed to pay $7 in their mines. The southern owners say they will have to close their collieries if ordered to pay northern wages.

It was learned that William Green, president of the AFL, had approved the taking of a strike vote by AFL workers at various plants of the Reynolds Metal Company, producers of aluminum.

Boris Shishkin, Green's representative in negotiations with the firm on wages, said a strike vote would be taken in the next two or three days. He said 12,000 workers were involved. The details of the wage dispute were not made public.

Employees of North American Aviation, Inc., which has $190,000,000 in United States and British government orders, have voted to strike Wednesday morning unless wage demands are met.

North American employs 11,000 men, of whom 5,829 voted to strike in yesterday's day-long balloting and 210 opposed walkout. Fifteen of the 6,034 ballots cast were blank or voided.

LOCAL NOTES

Mrs. A. D. Bramer entertained with a bridge party at her home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Edward Ayres, of Pittsburgh, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Angle.

There were two tables in play, with prize for high score going to Mrs. William Angle, second high to Mrs. Agnes Whyte and consolation to Mrs. Bernice Harrington. There was a nice prize also for the guest of honor. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. John Evan and Mrs. Bertha Peterson were visitors this week in Philadelphia, where Mr. Evan purchased some new equipment for his roller rink here.

Because they will be closed all day next Friday, Memorial Day, the local barber shops will remain open all day Thursday until 8:30 p. m.

Fred Carlson is a patient in the Kane Community Hospital with an abdominal injury received a few days ago when he was struck by a piece of pipe while at work on the C. W. Bramer oil lease at Barnes.

Nazis Are Being Turned Back by British Fleet

reported thrown yesterday, "seems to be all right."

Most of the Germans have been cleaned out of those two coastal points, informed London circles said, although acknowledging there might be some odd pockets of resistance left. At Candia British troops were reported to be collecting supplies dropped by German planes to nourish the ground forces.

There was no information about German troop landings on other parts of the island than Malemi, but military quarters here said the Nazis probably were still dropping parachutists.

Dispatches last night from Alexandria said 5,000 Germans headed for Crete had drowned in the dark hours before dawn Thursday when a British naval squadron smashed into a hodge-podge convoy in a three-hour engagement in which an Italian destroyer, two merchantmen and 40 sailing vessels were sunk.

None of the convoy reached Crete, British naval sources declared, and an attempt to land men and material on the eastern tip of the island from the Italian Dodecanese also was said to have been smashed by the British.

Fresh invaders landed from the sky, however, and again the defenders were said to have inflicted heavy casualties as desperate fighting men for whom there is no retreat slugged it out in an endless series of hand-to-hand encounters.

Most of the fighting was reported in the extreme western end of the island in an area about 10 miles square, where villages were being taken and retaken a half-dozen times daily.

The longer the fight on Crete lasts, and so long as the fleet maintains control of the waters around the island, the better the British chances for ultimate victory, informed quarters here asserted.

Attack on Convoy Is Described

"A series of violent explosions occurred and the burning destroyer went down like a stone. Throughout the action she never had fired her own guns."

"The admiral then led the squadron through the middle of the enemy convoy, consisting mainly of sailing caiques intended for a surprise night landing on Crete. We sank a large number of these caiques at least 40—each carrying at least 100 Nazis. We rained many of them, x x x

"On a subsequent sweep we saw a large number of Germans in the water, clinging to lifebelts and rafts and the wreckage of caiques. The possibility of E-boat (motor torpedo boat) attacks made it impossible for us to stop to try to rescue any of them, x x x"

val defense of North America. All but one of the members of the new twin boards have been selected, it was learned. President Roosevelt is expected to decide on the third man on the American board within the next few days. All names have been closely guarded by the White House.

The boards, it was learned, will immediately undertake a systematic inventory of the United States' and Canada's present and potential resources, production, manufacturing capacities, supplies, priorities and other vital elements involved in providing the quickest and greatest possible assistance to Great Britain and other nations fighting against aggression, and strengthening the defenses of the American republics.

Advice on Invasion Issued

duty will be—stand firm, x x x "Home guards, supported by strong mobile columns wherever the enemies' numbers require it, will immediately come to grips with the invaders and, there is little doubt, will soon destroy them."

"Throughout the rest of the country where there is no fighting going on and no close cannon fire or rifle fire can be heard, every one will govern his conduct by the second great order and duty, namely—carry on, x x x"

HIGHWAY DEPT. WILL IMPROVE COUNTY ROADS

The State Department of Highways is planning to improve 12.78 miles of road in Warren county this season with its own forces, according to information received from Harrisburg today. This is part of a program approved by Governor James for improving more than 700 miles of road, primarily rural areas of the commonwealth.

The work to be undertaken by the department forces will be in addition to any contract work in the county and does not include projects sponsored by the department to be completed with WPA forces.

Some of the work to be done by department forces will consist of placing macadam surfaces on roads previously improved with a stone base. The remainder is the building of base and the placing of surface.

Roads in Warren county scheduled for improvement during the present construction season by department forces are:

Route 61056, west from U. S. route 62, .76 of a mile of base and surface. This is the Follette Run road.

Route 61048, in Warren borough, .38 of a mile of base and surface. This is on Hemlock street, east from the Glade Hotel.

Route 61037, north from Scandia, 1 mile of base and surface. This is the road from Scandia to the river.

Route 61062, west from U. S. route 62, 3.54 miles of base and surface. This is the "lover's lane" road north of the Conewango Valley Country Club.

Route 61046, west from Clarendon borough, 2 miles of base and surface. This road leads through Old Clarendon.

Route 61012, between Tidoute and Pittsfield, 3.40 miles of surface.

Route 61031, between Sheffield and Cherry Grove, 1.70 miles of surface.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

got the shock of its life when it received a tabulation showing that $1,468,500.00, well over a half of CCC's total expenses, had gone into the streams of business in these categories:

For lumber and building trades ..... $93,500.00
For shoes ..... 30,160.00
For clothing and uniforms ..... 178,487.00
For food ..... 331,641.00
For trucks, tractors, power tools ..... 172,814.00
For picks, shovels and small tools ..... 20,000.00
Wage deductions sent to families ..... 647,130.00
As for the other billion and a third dollars that went for wages to the men in camps, what the country got in return is perhaps beyond value. James J. McEntee, the present director of the corps, stresses the intangible benefits of increased health to the men themselves, training them to get along with other men, keeping them off the streets where they would have been if allowed to run at large as unemployed hoodlums. Communism never got to them. In addition to which, most of them learned a trade, even if it was only to swing an ax in a lumber camp or drive a truck. And 87,000 of them learned to read and write while in CCC camps, which is a rather sad commentary on the great American educational system.

Getting beyond the intangibles, the list and numbers of parks set up, trails blazed, forest fires fought, bridges built, streams purified, crocodons stopped, dams constructed, goods controlled, weeds cleared, pipes laid, wildcats eliminated, soils conserved, stones quarried, telephone lines strung, waterholes opened, mosquitoes destroyed, etc., etc., and etc., is four typewritten pages long, single spaced.

YOUNGVILLE HI BAND TO OFFER FIRST PROGRAM

Youngville, May 23.—The public in Youngville and vicinity will have their first opportunity of hearing the newly organized Youngville school band of fifty pieces when they present their first concert in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Monday evening, May 26th.

The organization is composed of the small concert band and thirty-two new members, the latter had only a little over one month's training.

The members, together with their director, E. J. Skanson, have been working hard in sectional rehearsal and a week ago the entire organization rehearsed to gether for the first time.

The small concert band and the a cappella choir will assist at Monday evening's concert. The equipment of the band has meant expense and a small admission is being charged.

FAREWELL PARTY

Mrs. M. J. Kearn was tendered a surprise farewell party Wednesday in the form of a handkerchief shower by a group of Irvine and Youngville ladies. Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon and all enjoyed the dainty luncheon served. M. J. Kearn and family are moving to Titusville in the near future.

New Harvey-Carey Drug Store Opened In Buffalo Friday

Thousands of Buffalonians on Friday, visited the new location of the "upper" Main street Buffalo more than forty years a drug store has been operated at this former address, first by Heegard-Sloan and since 1923 by Harvey-Carey. The location was just one door below Chippewa street, on Main.

Now this old established business has been moved to a new home at 596 Main, on the northwest corner of Main and Chippewa streets, in the heart of Buffalo's theatre and shopping district, and only a short block from the Chippewa Market, with its free parking space for hundreds of cars, day and evening.

Here in this new bigger corner location has been built a "drug store of tomorrow", embodying all the most modern devices in fixturing, lighting and merchandising. It is the first store in Buffalo to have the new type fluorescent lighting, which approximates daylight without glare or blue tones. Completely air-conditioned for comfort at all times. # NEAR CAPACITY CROWD ATTENDS SHEFFIELD PLAY

Sheffield, May 24.—A near capacity crowd of relatives and friends of the members of Sheffield High School's class of 1941 was present in the school auditorium last evening to witness the senior class play, "Aunt Tillie Goes to Town", by Wilbur Braun.

The play, an amusing three-act vehicle deriving its major comedy from a situation wherein a leading male character, Marvin Tucker, played by Elwood Kinney, is compelled to impersonate two different "Aunt Tillies", was ably presented by the cast of eleven.

The players were: Isabel Heeter, Janyce Olmes, Elwood Kinney, Richard Okerberg, Frances Gronic, Betty Finerty, James McGuire, Christine Nelson, Eugene Champion, Veronica Hoden and Lois Blake.

Carl Anderson and George Olson were the stage committee, and music was played by the S. H. S. orchestra, directed by R. W. Gittings. The furniture employed in the stage set was by the courtesy of the Blomquist Furniture Company, North Warren.

The Misses Ellen Heintz and Jennie Nearing, members of the high school faculty who directed the play, each received a beautiful corsage given by the cast and stage committee. Presentation of the flowers was by James McGuire, member of the cast.

Charges Louis With Foul Play; Moguls Will Decide

(From Page Seven)

The opening chapter was almost ended when he caught Louis flush with a thundering left and catapulted him through the ropes. The negro bobbed right up at the count of four, his face filled with wonderment. He climbed back through the ropes and started to work on Buddy, and thereafter there never was much doubt of the eventual result.

BRITAIN COULD USE ANOTHER LAWRENCE

GREAT militarists have crossed and recrossed the sun-scorched plains of the Middle East since the dawn of history. Today Britain would swap them all for one more Lawrence of Arabia.

It needs him in this cockpit of the East, again in the middle of an imperial conflict born in Europe. In the drama of war, as it unfolds, are Germany, seeking to expand eastward to gain rich oil deposits and access to Suez; Russia, whose full purposes are not yet revealed; Britain, striving to keep a firm grip on oil, support of the Arab world, Suez and Egypt; and Turkey, Iraq, Palestine, Syria, Trans-Jordan, caught in between.

In the first World War, Lawrence stirred up the spirit of rebellion bred in the veins of 40,000,000 Moslems, led a revolt which sent the Ottoman Empire tottering. Virtually an Arab himself in language, habit and dress, he chased Turks from Medina to Damascus.

Today German forces have filtered into Syria and Iraq, and it is the British who are denouncing secret agents. Britain would like once more to command a Moslem horde for defense of empire. It needs a great leader whom white-robed riders will obey. Lawrence of Arabia is dead.

3 out of 10 are flirting with fate

A national survey made by the American Bankers Association among people with property revealed that 3 out of 10 had not made a Will. Here are the actual percentages.

Made Will?	%	Sex	Age
		Male	Female	Under 40	Over 40
Yes	73%	78%	63%	56%	79%
No	27%	22%	37%	44%	21%
	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%

And 40% of those who didn't make Wills admitted frankly that "procrastination" was the reason. This is tempting fate. If you haven't made a Will — do it now. We'd appreciate an opportunity to explain why we think you should name us your Executor and Trustee.

Trend to Smaller Dining Room Suites

Dining rooms are becoming smaller! This statement is borne out by the fact that the once lordly dining room suite has gradually given way to "junior" dining room suites and "dinettes". In keeping with this trend to smaller size dining rooms, the new Hallmark Quality line of Furniture, recently introduced by Montgomery Ward and Company, features small dining room suites with the same styling as the full size suites.

The demand for small dining room suites has grown out of the fact that architects have gradually been "chopping" off modern dining rooms, until all that remains in many homes and apartments is a fairly large "dinette". As a result, home owners have been running into no end of difficulty in furnishing these "dinettes". They have been forced to accept either a full size dining room suite or a not-too-handsome dinette set.

Many of the dining room suites created by famous makers for the Hallmark Quality Group are ideal in size for the small home or apartment dining room. According to Wards, the smart "junior" size dining room suite is available in French Provincial Regency, 18th Century, Modern and nearly every "period" design. "One of the most striking suites," they say, "is the new Black Lacquer Regency. It has the luster of rare onyx, and is accented with a rich looking gold trim." "All of the suites in the "junior" group are authentic reproductions of full size dining room suites."

HIGHWAY DEPT. WILL IMPROVE COUNTY ROADS

The State Department of Highways is planning to improve 12.78 miles of road in Warren county this season with its own forces, according to information received from Harrisburg today. This is part of a program approved by Governor James for improving more than 700 miles of road, primarily in rural areas of the commonwealth.

The work to be undertaken by the department forces will be in addition to any contract work in the county and does not include projects sponsored by the department to be completed with WPA forces.

Some of the work to be done by department forces will consist of placing macadam surfaces on roads previously improved with a stone base. The remainder is the building of base and the placing of surface.

Roads in Warren county scheduled for improvement during the present construction season by department forces are:

Route 61056, west from U. S. route 62, .76 of a mile of base and surface. This is the Follette Run road.

Route 61048, in Warren borough, .38 of a mile of base and surface. This is on Hemlock street, east from the Glade Hotel.

Route 61037, north from Scandia, 1 mile of base and surface. This is the road from Scandia to the river.

Route 61062, west from U. S. route 62, 3.54 miles of base and surface. This is the "lover's lane" road, north of the Conewango Valley Country Club.

Route 61046, west from Clarendon borough, 2 miles of base and surface. This road leads through Old Clarendon.

Route 61012, between Tidouette and Pittsfield, 3.40 miles of surface.

Route 61031, between Sheffield and Cherry Grove, 1.70 miles of surface.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

got the shock of his life when it received a tabulation showing that $1,468,500,000, well over a half of CCC's total expenses, had gone into the streams of business in these categories:

For lumber and building trades ..... $ 93,500,000
For shoes ..... 30,160,000
For clothing and uniforms ..... 173,487,000
For food ..... 331,641,000
For trucks, tractors, power tools ..... 172,814,000
For picks, shovels and small tools ..... 20,000,000
Wage deductions sent to families ..... 647,120,000

As for the other billion and a third dollars, that went for wages to the men in camps, what the country got in return is perhaps beyond value. James J. McEntee, the present director of the corps, stresses the intangible benefits of increased health to the men themselves, training them to get along with other men, keeping them off the streets where they would have been if allowed to run at large as unemployed hoodlums. Communism never got to them. In addition to which, most of them learned a trade, even if it was only to swing an ax in a lumber camp or drive a truck. And $7,000 of them learned to read and write while in CCC camps, which is a rather sad commentary on the great American educational system.

Getting beyond the intangibles, the list and numbers of parks set up, trails blazed, forest fires fought, bridges built, streams purified, erosions stopped, dams constructed, floods controlled, weeds cleared, pipes laid, wildcats eliminated, soils conserved, stones quarried, telephone lines strung, waterholes opened, mosquitoes destroyed, etc., etc., and, etc., is four typewritten pages long, single spaced.

YOUNGVSVILLE HI BAND TO OFFER FIRST PROGRAM

Youngsville, May 23.—The public in Youngsville and vicinity will have their first opportunity of hearing the newly organized Youngsville school band of fifty pieces, when they present their first concert in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Monday evening, May 26th.

The organization is composed of the small concert band and thirty-two new members, the latter had only a little over one month's training.

The members, together with their director, E. J. Swanson, have been working hard in sectional rehearsal and a week ago the entire organization rehearsed together for the first time. The small concert band and the capella choir will assist at Monday evening's concert. The equipment of the band has meant expense and a small admission is being charged.

FAREWELL PARTY

New Harvey-Carey Drug Store Opened In Buffalo Friday

Thousands of Buffalonians on Friday, visited the new location of the "upper" Main street Buffalo Harvey-Carey drug store. For more than forty years a drug store has been operated at this former address, first by Heegard-Sloan and since 1923 by Harvey-Carey. The location was just one door below Chippewa street, on Main.

Now this old established business has been moved to a new home at 596 Main, on the northwest corner of Main and Chippewa streets, in the heart of Buffalo's theatre and shopping district, and only a short block from the Chippewa Market, with its free parking space for hundreds of cars, day and evening.

Here in this new bigger corner location has been built a "drug store of tomorrow", embodying all the most modern devices in fixturing, lighting and merchandising. It is the first store in Buffalo to have the new type fluorescent lighting, which approximates daylight without glare or blue tones. Completely air-conditioned for comfort at all times. The soda fountain has a 96-foot length counter, comfortable seat-height, for the fast and efficient service of both food and soda customers. People in the drug business say it is one of the finest drug stores in New York state.

It takes something besides fine fixtures and bargains in drug merchandise to make a drug store. That "something" exists in all Harvey-Carey Drug Stores.

The local Harvey-Carey store is to be congratulated on this fine "city cousin".

NEAR CAPACITY CROWD ATTENDS SHEFFIELD PLAY

Sheffield, May 24.—A near capacity crowd of relatives and friends of the members of Sheffield High School's class of 1941 was present in the school auditorium last evening to witness the senior class play, "Aunt Tillie Goes to Town", by Wilbur Braun.

The play, an amusing three-act vehicle deriving its major comedy from a situation wherein a leading male character, Mervin Tucker, played by Elwood Kinney, is compelled to impersonate two different "Aunt Tillies", was ably presented by the cast of eleven.

The players were: Isabel Heeter, Janice Jones, Elwood Kinney, Richard Okerberg, Frances Gronic, Betty Finerty, James McGuire, Christine Nelson, Eugene Champion, Veronica Hoden and Lois Blake.

Carl Anderson and George Olson were the stage committee, and music was played by the S. H. S. orchestra, directed by R. W. Gittings. The furniture employed in the stage set was by the courtesy of the Blomquist Furniture Company, North Warren.

The Misses Ellen Heintz and Jennie Nearing, members of the high school faculty who directed the play, each received a beautiful corsage given by the cast and stage committee. Presentation of the flowers was by James McGuire, member of the cast.
